THE VENEZUELANS REFUSE ENVOY.

War Being Freely Talked in Diplomatic Circles.

Insult to Colombia Cannot Well be Overlooked.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Colombia and Venezuela are more estranged than ever before as a result of the refusal of Vice President Gomez of Venezuela, to receive Dr. Herrera, the minister plenipotentiary, who went to Caracas three weeks ago to perfect a treaty with Venezuela for the settlement of the disputes between the two southern American governments, concerning the navigation of rivers flowing through the two countries, and concerning commerce passing over the common boundaries.

War is being freely talked in South American diplomatic circles. The insult to Colombia is regarded by some of the diplomats here as one she cannot well overlook, especially since this

Great Change In All Our Departments

The incorporation of our business on the 10th January 1905 placed at our disposal nearly three times the capital ever used by the firm before. It took us little over a year to invest carefully the extra capital and the surplus added to it last January, in such wares only that were considered by our experience and judgment desirable and good values. Now we are showing such complete and select stocks of Oriental Rugs, Domestic Rugs and Carpets, Mattings, Linoleums, Furniture, Draperies, Laces, Embroideries, Silks, China, Bric-a-Brac and Silverware.

As we have never shown before. You are invited to visit our establishment and see the striking changes that have taken place in all the departments.

NEW CABINET ANTICIPATED.

Future Policy of Government is Carefully Guarded.

Papers Puzzled as to Meaning of Witte's Downfall.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 3.—The immediate organization of the new cabinet is now anticipated. All the ministers are understood to have placed their resignations in the emperor's hands. Besides M. Goremykin as premier, the share is said to include M. Stolipin, the governor of Saratoff, for minister of the interior; M. Kokovtseff, for minister of the interior; M. Kokovtseff, for minister of finance; M. Galitzin, professor of physics at the academy of sciences, minister of ways and communications; M. Von Kaufman, a member of the council of the empire, minister of education; Prince Sherinsky Shakmatoff, procurator of the holy synod and M. Stchegloveroff, minister of justice. All are bureaucrats but rather colorless.

The future policy of the government is so carefully guarded that the papers are non-plussed as to whether Count Witte's downfall means a reversal of the lower, or the possibility of reaching a common ground in parliament.

The majority of the papers attribute the fall of the cabinet to the bad reception of the draft of the fundamental laws, and it also involves the withdrawal of the latter, which is believed to be a hopeful sign. The Strana (Country) says:

"The passing of Witte, with whom parliament could not work, opens the door to a possible rapprochement of the representatives of the people."

The Novoe Vremya thinks the emperor has no intention of entirely dispensing with Witte's services, and expresses the opinion that Witte will take the reins of the council of the empire and block radical action on the part of the lower house.

The Nashat Shisn (Our Time) while very suspicious, thinks it premature to imagine that Witte's departure is a declaration of war against parliament.

The Slovo regards the downfall of the Witte ministry as the natural sequence of the unanimous protest of the press against the draft of the fundamental laws.

The scheme advised by Durnovo to control as many of the peasant members of parliament as possible, as soon as they arrive in St. Petersburg, has come to grief. It transpires that secret agents had for weeks been traveling in Russia, trying to organize a government peasant party and to secure the adherence of the members elect to parliament, for whom lodgings in government buildings at cheap prices had been arranged by Durnovo. The plot was exposed in several provinces and aroused excitement among the peasants, and protests from 18 governors. Nevertheless, it was partially successful. About 40 members elect were already occupying government lodgings yesterday. However, they became suspicious at the cheap accommodations, and vacated the government lodgings.

The Constitutional Democrats then organized posts of students at the railroad stations to meet incoming members of parliament, conduct them to lodgings and keep them away from the "baneful" influences of the government. The situation is not unlike the tactics of rival political parties at American conventions in their efforts to capture country delegates.

GOULD STILL WINNING.

Defeats Cooper-Key by 3-0 in Court Tennis Games.

LONDON, May 3.—In the court tennis championship games today Jay Gould of Lakewood, N. J., beat Cooper-Key by 3-0.

Cooper-Key started off well. He won the first three games and got 5—2 before the American champion found himself. After that Gould showed much superiority, although he lost the first two games of the last set. He was taking matters easily, and always appeared to have the match in hand.

The scores were 6—5, 6—1, 6—1.

Gould meets H. L. Hill in the final Saturday, the winner of which will have to play V. Pennel, last year's runner-up, before meeting the holder, Eustace H. Miles.

PRESIDENT WIRES ATHLETES.

The American Contestants Are Already Dispersing.

ATHENS, Greece, May 3.—President Roosevelt has telegraphed to James E. Sullivan, manager of the American team at the Olympic games, as follows:

"Hearty congratulations to you and the American contestants. Uncle Sam is all right.

"Theodore Roosevelt."

Minister Jackson will give a reception tonight in honor of the American athletes.

The Americans and the French are negotiating an engagement for the recognition of the American Amateur Athletic Union records by the French Athletic Union and vice versa, with uniformity of rules for the encouragement of competitions between the two countries.

The American athletes are already dispersing. Some have started for England, to compete in field sports in the United Kingdom.

MERCURY ADMINISTERED.

Board of Review Orders Rigid Investigation of the Charge.

NEW YORK, May 3.—Orders for a rigid investigation of the alleged administering of mercury to Lon Dillon when she was defeated in the gold cup race in 1904 by Major Delmar were issued today by the board of review of the National Trotting Association. The investigation is to be held at Lexington, Ky., next month.

E. E. Smathers, the millionaire horse owner who drove Major Delmar in this race, was present with attorneys today at the board meeting. Murry Howe, who represented the Memphis association, which has preferred the charges, did not appear and the board therefore dismissed the charges against Mr. Smathers without prejudice, and fixed upon a later date for the investigation.

SPECIAL MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT

Explains Attitude Regarding Relief Contributions.

Many Offers of Assistance from Foreign Powers.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—A special message was sent to Congress today by President Roosevelt, in which he explained the attitude of this government regarding the offer of contributions to the San Francisco fire and earthquake sufferers, from foreign countries. The President says that where the contributions were made to this government, he did not feel warranted in accepting them, but where they were made to the citizens' relief committee of San Francisco no official action was, or could be, taken in regard to them. The text of the message follows:

"To the Senate and House of Representatives:

"Immediately after the disaster at San Francisco, many offers of assistance in the shape of contributions were tendered by foreign individuals, corporations, governments and municipalities. The Canadian government, as an instance of generosity peculiarly pleasant as a proof of the close and friendly ties which knit us to our neighbors of the north, offered to pass a resolution appropriating $100,000 for the relief of the sufferers by earthquake and fire. With a generosity equally marked and equally appreciated, the republic of Mexico, our nearest neighbor to the south, voted to appropriate $30,000, and the republic of Guatemala voted to appropriate $10,000 for the same purpose.

The empress of China, in addition to sending money to be used for the Chinese who suffered in San Francisco, offered to send more than double as much to be used for the inhabitants generally. The Japanese government immediately offered to send across the ocean one of their beautifully equipped hospital ships to be used in any way for the sufferers, and also offered 200,000 yen to the relief committee, in addition to more than 100,000 yen sent by Japanese subjects. The government of far distant New Zealand voted $25,000. The government of Martinique voted 1,000 francs, the municipality of Edmonton, Canada, $1,000. Many municipalities, corporations and individuals in England, Germany, France, Japan, Cuba and other countries immediately proffered aid.

Where these offers of aid are made to the private relief committee organized to deal with the distress in San Francisco, I have, of course, no official action to take concerning them. Where they were tendered to me in my official capacity, I did not feel warranted in accepting them. But I am certain I give utterance to the feelings of all our countrymen, when I express my very lively appreciation of the warm hearted generosity and eagerness to help us in the time of our affliction, shown by the governments, the municipalities, the corporations and the individuals mentioned above. We are deeply grateful to them, and we are deeply grateful for the way in which they showed in such practical fashion the growth of the spirit of brotherhood among the nations.

Most kind and welcome messages of sympathy also were promptly sent to us by the emperor of Austria, the king of Belgium, the president of Bolivia, the prince of Bulgaria, the president of Brazil, the president of Chili, the president of Cuba, the king of Denmark, the president of the Dominican republic, the khedive of Egypt, the president of France, the German emperor, the king of Great Britain, the king of Greece, the president of Guatemala, the king of Italy, the mikado of Japan, the emperor of Korea, the president of Mexico, the prince of Monaco, the queen of the Netherlands, the president of Nicaragua, the king of Norway, the president of Peru, the king of Portugal, the czar of Russia, the king of Servia, the king of Spain, the president of the Swiss Confederation, the king of Sweden, the sultan of Turkey, the president of Venezuela.

"The governments of Austria-Hungary, Bavaria, Belgium, Brazil, Chili, Costa Rica, Columbia, Cuba, Denmark, Ecuador, France, Great Britain, Guatemala, Greece, Haiti, Italy, Japan, Panama, Persia, Portugal, Paraguay, Peru, The Netherlands, Norway, Switzerland, Spain, Uruguay, Sweden, Russia and Siam.

By the ministers of foreign affairs of Chili, Greece, Nicaragua, Portugal, Paraguay, Guatemala, and Russia.

By the viceroy of India, and the governor general of Australia, by the governors of Ontario, Hong Kong, Ceylon, the Bermudas, Natal, the Azores, the Iwate Prefecture of Japan.

By the premiers of New South Wales, Victoria, South Australia, and New Zealand; by the national assembly of Salvador, by the Cuban house of representatives, by the national assembly of Guatemala; by the mayor, senate and house of Breton, the mayor, president and the senate of Hamburg, the mayors of Adelaide, Queensland, Hobart, Madrid, Osaka, by the chambers of commerce of Nagoya, Japan, and Calcutta, Bengal, by the tea traders and silk fabric guild of Yokohama and the Asahi Shimbun of Osaka; by the Canadian Manufacturers, Association of Toronto, and the Latin union of Havana, by the prime minister of England, the lord mayors of London, Liverpool, Bristol, Leicester and Shrewsbury; by workingmen's councils, religious associations and by a multitude of other associations, organizations and private individuals.

"Appropriate expressions of gratitude to all these friends have been returned by the State Department or by myself, but it seems to me that the real depth of grateful feeling awakened in our people, by all these evidences of genuine sympathy and friendship, should be expressed also by the formal action of the supreme legislative power of the nation.

GENERAL STRIKE IS BROKEN UP.

Occasional Arrests Made But No Disorder.

French Labor Movements Different from American.

PARIS, May 3.—The general strike shows further evidence of disruption, but a number of trades are still refusing to return to work until their demands are granted. A squadron of dragoons is drawn up in the court yard of the Prince Eugene barracks on the Place de la Republique, prepared to respond to the call of the police. The latter continue to be massed in considerable force in the neighborhood of the labor exchange, and occasional arrests are made, but there is no disorder. The Place de la Republique, the late storm centre, is today transformed into the regular Thursday flower market. A representative of the Associated Press this morning visited the headquarters of the Confederation of Labor and found it virtually deserted. M. Delsalle, the acting secretary, said:

"French labor movements are entirely different from American. Yours are completely centralized and organized, whereas, with us, the dependence is almost entirely on the individual. This morning all our mail and telegrams were stopped by orders of the government. Therefore I am unable to state how far our branches are continuing the strike. I only know that about 120 delegates, representing a large number of trades, held a secret meeting last night and adopted a manifesto which will appear in the Vois Du Peuple tomorrow, denouncing the arrests and the efforts to suppress the movement."

The centre of the city is entirely normal, but detachments of troops continue to occupy strategic positions. The basement of the Bourse is occupied by a squad of soldiers, and the military are in charge of other public places. Pickets of republican guards are also scattered through the suburbs, as a precaution against the appearance of scattered bands of strikers. The latter, however, are relatively quiet. The minor disorders reported are confined to the outlying factory districts.

Representatives of numerous trades met at the labor exchange during the day, and resolved to continue the strike, but there was no disorder. The resumption of work is general in the mining districts.

A number of leading automobile factories in the suburbs have locked out their machinists, owing to their continued demands for reduced hours. Several thousand men are affected.

WERE HIDING BOMBS.

Russian Killed by Explosion in Forest of Vincennes.

PARIS, May 3, 5 p. m.—A bomb explosion occurred in the forest of Vincennes at 2 o'clock this afternoon, killing a Russian named Strilo and dangerously wounding a companion named Boussnoff. The two men were proceeding through the woods, each carrying a bomb, with the evident purpose of hiding them for future use. While so doing the bomb which Strilo carried exploded, killing him instantly. Boussnoff was struck by fragments of the bomb and fearfully lacerated.

The police have not yet been able to establish the connections of the men. The remaining bomb has not yet been examined, owing to the danger in handling it.

Boussnoff declared his companion carried the bombs and claimed ignorance of his purpose.

The police found a revolver in Strilo's pocket.

UNCLE JOE IS PLEASED.

Objections to Unanimous Consent Relieve Him.

Hobson, of Merrimac Fame, Defeats Bankhead-Burrows Professional Investigation of Senate.

[Washington correspondence of the News.]

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Objections as to unanimous consent by minority leader Williams just suit Speaker Cannon. Heretofore several hours each day have been taken up by the Speaker in the examination of bills which members desired to have passed by unanimous consent. The Speaker feels it his duty to ascertain the main features of a bill when he grants recognition to consider it. He wants to know whether it is good legislation. By shutting off all unanimous consent legislation, Williams, has relieved the Speaker of a great deal of trouble. Really Uncle Joe seems to be very much obliged to the minority leader.

Representative Boutell of Illinois in a speech in the House, expressed the wish that the old name "Sorcors" instead of "Suckers" should be applied to the good people of his state. He gave the origin of the name as follows: "In 1780, when George Rogers Clark and his men held Illinois, the British sent a party of English soldiers and savage Indians to take St. Louis, then a Spanish village and an ally of the American Revolution. The distressed people in St. Louis sent at once to Clark for aid, and by forced marches he hurried to the defense of the little fortress. As the wild Indians appeared shrieking and howling on the northeast, the eager watchers from the ramparts described the officers and men of Clark's command, and in their enthusiasm they shouted to the people below: 'Here come the sucors from Illinois.' Thank God the town is saved.' Now, that is the real origin of our name."

For three years Senator Burrows as chairman of the Senate committee on privileges and elections has been investigating the case of Reed Smoot. Some weeks ago as a member of the committee on finance, he was made a member of a subcommittee to investigate the charges against a negro named for register of the treasury. A short time later he was made a member of a subcommittee to investigate the case of Benjamin F. Barnes, assistant secretary to the President, who was appointed postmaster of Washington. Burrows is now called the "professional investigator" of the Senate.

Representative Dawson of Iowa was telling the House what the agricultural department had done in the way of protection for American meat by its inspection service, and was interrupted by Representative Hill of Connecticut, who said: "I am reading a book that states plainly and squarely that, while the export meats of this country are inspected, the diseased cattle are slaughtered for home consumption, and that infected cattle are slaughtered and put on the domestic market. Does the gentleman know anything in regard to that?"

"I do not," answered Dawson. "I understand this is a book of fiction and should be treated as such."

"I want to say to the gentleman from Connecticut that that information is absolutely erroneous," said Representative Wadsworth of New York.

"The statement is emphatically made in the book," persisted Hill.

"Well, it is emphatically wrong," reiterated Wadsworth.

Which shows that fiction may masquerade as fact.

The old member must be a mighty good politician, or a very valuable man for his district, or possess some extra qualifications if he can remain in Congress in the face of a persistent younger man who keeps in the field year after year and will not stay beaten. Richmond Pearson Hobson, the naval officer who was the hero of the Merrimac affair in Santiago harbor, and who won an unenviable reputation as being kissed by silly girls, has defeated the veteran Bankhead in Alabama. Hobson is the especial champion of a large navy.

When Colonel Hepburn of Iowa was making his tariff speech, one member asked whether it was not true that Henry Clay was at one time a free trader. "I presume so," replied Hepburn, "but that has nothing to do with my argument. John C. Calhoun and Daniel Webster exchanged positions on the tariff question, and an old man once told me that when a boy he had seen Andrew Jackson march into the capital of Tennessee as the new head of a body of Democrats, carrying a transparency upon which was emblazoned "We are in favor of a national bank and a high protective tariff."

When Champ Clarke first came to Congress he was a member of the committee on pensions, and with that tendency he has to acquire and remember the curious in Congressional affairs, he says that 112 years after the British evacuated New York he, with others, considered and reported 11 bills for the widows of Revolutionary soldiers. This meant that young men of the Revolution in their old age married young women who lived to be very old women, and drew pensions from the government on account of the service of their husbands.

The Paradise Club held its annual social in the town hall last evening, about 40 being present in spite of the storm. Progressive whist was played at seven tables, for about an hour and a half. The first prizes were won by Mrs. William G. Stevens, a silver glove darner, and by Mr. Charles Schwarz, a handy outfit. The consolation prizes were taken by Miss Grace C. Ward, an egg beater, and Miss May E. Peckham, a toy drum. The entertainment was in charge of Mrs. William G. Stevens, Mrs. George E. Ward and Miss Martha Peckham. The collation, consisting of sandwiches, cake, coffee and ice cream, was in charge of Mrs. Harry E. Peckham, Mrs. Edward J. Peckham and Mrs. J. Oscar Peckham. The few children present amused themselves with the bean bag games. This social of the club is the closing feature of the season and usually brings together nearly all the club and their families and is an occasion much enjoyed. All but six of the members were present. Several piano selections were rendered.

Mr. Stephen P. Weaver's illness has taken another turn and he is now suffering with surgical mumps. The foot which has been very painful for the past ten weeks is much improved.

CALIFORNIA SENATORS OPPOSED

Do Not Think San Francisco Needs Government Aid.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—That the California Senators do not consider that there should at present be an effort to secure government aid in the general reconstruction of the city of San Francisco was made evident in the Senate today. The question came up on Mr. Newlands's resolution directing the finance committee of the Senate and the ways and means committee of the House to consider the feasibility of the government's guaranteeing bonds to aid in the rehabilitation of the stricken city.

The Nevada Senator discussed the resolution, contending for the regularity of his suggestion and enlarging upon the desirability of making the city a more attractive centre of population than it had ever been.

Mr. Flint and Mr. Perkins deprecated the introduction of the resolution as unwise at the time and both indicated their opinion that the California delegations had not been consulted before the presentation of the measure. The resolution was referred to the committee on finance.

CHARGES AGAINST COLER.

Brooklyn Democracy Asks Governor Higgins to Remove President.

NEW YORK, May 2.—Charges have been preferred against Bird S. Coler, president of the borough of Brooklyn, who was elected on the Municipal Ownership ticket last fall, with a view to having him removed from office. The charges will be laid before Governor Higgins tomorrow. In them Coler is accused of making a corrupt bargain before election with the Brooklyn Democracy, of which ex-Senator Coffey is the boss, and with the German-American League of Brooklyn, by which he was to give to those organizations, through Coffey, control of the patronage of his office in return for their support at the polls.

The charges are made by James A. Healey and James S. Taylor, members of the Brooklyn Democracy, who swear that they were present when Coler made the promise. Attached to the papers are the affidavits of Healey and Taylor, giving the details of the alleged transaction.

The Coffey people, it is said, boistrusted Coler. When the conference at which the alleged corrupt promises were made took place the Coffeyites saw to it that there was a stenographer present, and it is declared that he took down the proceedings word for word. Whatever promises the borough president may have made, he did not appoint any of Coffey's friends to office.

IRISH MEMBERS IN REVOLT.

Cast in Lot with Unionists in Opposition to Educational Bill.

LONDON, May 2.—The Irish members of Parliament have openly revolted against the Educational bill. A meeting of the party in the House of Commons today, under the presidency of John Redmond, resolved to vote against the second reading of the proposed measure.

This decision greatly strengthens the hands of the Unionists, who are united against the bill and who will be supported by many members of the Labor party who are opposed to any form of religious instruction in the state schools.

A rather unseasonable thunderstorm struck the south part of the town, Monday afternoon, and cut up some pranks, without doing great damage. Many telephones were disabled and the subscribers deprived of their usual means of communication. The lightning struck the residence of Town Clerk John H. GOT HIS HAIR BACK.

Was Perfectly Bald When He Started to Use Newbro's Herpicide.

Frederick Mannell, Maryland block, Butte, Montana, bought a bottle of Newbro's Herpicide, April 6, '05, and began to use it for entire baldness. The hair follicles in his scalp were not dead and in 20 days he had hair all over his head. On July 2 he writes, "and today my hair is as thick and luxuriant as any one could wish." Newbro's Herpicide works on an old principle and with a new discovery—destroy the cause and you remove the effect. Herpicide destroys the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair, and finally baldness, so that with the cause gone the effect cannot remain. Stops falling hair at once and a new growth starts. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

TIVERTON.

Tuesday evening a reception was tendered the Central Baptist church members by Rev. Herbert E. Hatchman of the church, which was largely attended by the members of the parish. The reception was held at the parsonage and Rev. and Mrs. Hutchman welcomed the church people and entertained them in a pleasing manner during the evening with refreshments at the close.

LADIES AS WHIPS.

Fourth Annual Parade of Their Four-In-Hand Driving Club In New York.

Brilliant as the sunshine between showers was the fourth annual parade in New York yesterday of the Ladies' Four-in-Hand Driving Club. Eight drags were in line, each horsed and appointed in almost perfect form. Though the number of drags was the same as least year, the personnel of the whips was changed. Mrs. Thomas Hastings, president of the club, who went abroad a few months ago, was among the absentees. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Arthur Iselin, the vice president of the club, headed the line. It was soon after 11 o'clock when she drove her cross-matched team of grays and chestnuts through Seventy-second street from Madison avenue and pulled up near the entrance to the park. Her father, Colonel William Jay, president of the Coaching Club, was beside her on the box seat of his familiar primrose and green coach.

Next in line was Miss Angelica Gerry, on the box of a perfectly appointed park drag. Her horses were four browns or dark rosewood bays of high quality, making a stunning park team and matching in color and lustre the deep maroon coach to which they were driven.

Mrs. C. Ledyard Blair and Miss Mary Harriman, who came next, both had miniature coaches, the first that have been seen in the club parades, and they received much admiration as being the ideal four-in-hand vehicles for women.

The "pony" coach used by Mrs. Blair was formerly owned by Mr. James H. Hyde. Her horses were beauties individually and of just the right size and type for the "pony" coach, but black leaders in front of light chestnut and bay wheeler were criticised by a few sticklers for color effects in park teams. The coach was painted light maroon and vermillion, with bright red trimming on the roof seats, giving it a very spicy appearance.

Miss Harriman's miniature coach was just out of the shops—an English model, brightly colored in apple green and white. She drove a bay and a gray in the lead and a black and a skewbald in the wheel, making a nicely balanced and very striking team.

Miss Cornelia Bryce was on the box of Mr. James Henry Smith's royal blue, Paris built park drag, and she drove four high stepping chestnut horses, smartly caparisoned in brass mounted harness, with blue flowers for rosettes.

Mrs. Ralph Sanger, who was driving in the club parade for the first time, had the club coach, faultlessly turned out with a team of cross matched greys and blacks in brass harness, with red roses in the bridles.

Mrs. W. G. Loew drove high stepping bay leaders and chestnut wheelers to a dark green coach. Her flowers were yellow daisies.

As secretary of the club Miss Louise Gulliver was last in line. She drove roan and bay leaders, with bay and chestnut wheelers a workmanlike looking team. Her coach was her father's bright green drag, and her flowers were white carnations.

Mrs. Iselin, in addition to her father, William Jay, had on her coach Mrs. Alfred G. Vanderbilt, Miss Evelyn Parsons, Mr. Moncure Robinson and Mr. Arthur Iselin.

Miss Angelica Gerry's guests were her brother, Mr. Robert Livingston Gerry, on the box seat; Miss Mabel Gerry, Mrs. James L. Kernochan, Mr. W. Scott Cameron and Mr. Bradish G. Johnson.

Mrs. C. Ledyard Blair's guests were Mr. Blair, on the box seat; Miss Georgiana Farr and Mr. Mifflin Wharton.

Miss Mary Harriman's guests were Mr. Thomas Hastings, on the box seat; Miss Cornelia Harriman, Mr. John R. Townsend and Mr. Peter Goelet Gerry.

Miss Cornelia Bryce's guests were Mr. J. Henry Smith, on the box seat; Mr. and Mrs. J. Sargent Gram, Mrs. J. Norman Whitehouse and Mr. Robert Russell.

Mrs. Ralph Sanger's guests were Mr. Sanger on the box seat; Mr. and Mrs. August Belmont, Jr., Miss Wetmore and Mr. G. Palen Snow.

Mrs. W. Goadby Loew's guests were Mr. Loew, on the box seat; Miss Marguerite Loew, Miss Nathalie Knowlton, Mr. Worthington Whitehouse and Mr. Samuel Willets.

Miss Louise Gulliver's guests were Mr. William Gulliver, her father, on the box seat; Mrs. Gulliver, Mrs. Hiram Dewing, Mr. Phoenix Ingraham and Mr. George Griswold Haven, Jr.

THE JOHN NICHOLAS BROWN WILL.

Additional briefs were filed yesterday in the supreme court for an opinion on the construction of certain clauses of the will and codicils of the late John Nicholas Brown. The point at issue is whether the widow, Mrs. Natalie Bayard Brown, is entitled under the first clause of the will, or under the first clause of the second codicil to the will, or under both, to a lot of land on Hazard avenue, in this city, bought by the testator in his lifetime in 1899, and on which he caused a stable to be built about two years later.

Counsel for Mrs. Brown argue that the stable was used in connection with the Fearing cottage, and that it was owned by her husband at the time of his death. They say that between the time when he acquired this property and the time of his decease he had spent a great deal of his time in Newport; that he had already leased a cottage there and the lease had not expired at the time of his death; that he had frequently lived there, had voted there and had taken an interest in the affairs of the state and of the city. It is probable, they say, that he contemplated building a permanent dwelling house at Newport, and probable that, with the arrangements already made and the fact that he had given to his wife the contents of the stable, he would contemplate or desire her to seek elsewhere for one.

It is pointed out that by the provisions of the codicil the testator devised to his wife all the lots of land which he might possess at the time of his death, and which might have been purchased or acquired by him for the purpose of erecting a dwelling house, for the purpose of erecting a greenhouse, for the purpose of erecting a stable, or for any other purpose in connection with his dwelling house.

DEATH OF JOHN R. LIVERMORE.

Mr. John R. Livermore, a well known summer resident of this city, died suddenly from heart disease late Tuesday night at his home, the house of his father-in-law, H. Mortimer Brooks, in New York. He was the son of the late Charles F. Livermore and the Baroness Seilliere, and married Miss Josephine Brooks, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Mortimer Brooks, who own "Rockhurst" at the southerly end of Bellevue avenue, where Mr. and Mrs. Livermore usually spent the summer. He leaves a widow and three children. His sister, Miss Constance Livermore, married Count Odon de Lubersac, and his brother, Philip R. Livermore, is engaged to marry Miss Fanny Iselin, daughter of Mr. C. Oliver Iselin. The funeral will be held at the Church of the Incarnation in New York Saturday morning.

PERSONALS.

....Mrs. Jane Dowie, wife of "Elijah," has joined the Salvation Army and has been assigned to work in Ravenswood, a Chicago suburb. Mrs. Dowie says she will not take up her duties until the fight over Zion City is finished.

....Mrs. Mary McKittrick, who recently celebrated her one hundred and eighth birthday anniversary, committed suicide Monday. Her mind had been deranged for several weeks, but it was not thought she would make an attempt on her life.

....The original commission of Thomas Lord Fairfax, Baron of Cameron, was found several days ago at Winchester, Va., among old relics and documents bought by Dr. Charles Von Witt of that city. It is elaborately engraved on parchment, dated in England, April, 1738, and is in a fair state of preservation.

....The famous French theologian Ernest Renan is to have his memory preserved by a first-class armored cruiser to be named after him. This cruiser has just been launched at St. Nazaire and forms one of the group of 12,416 tons displacement, of which the Victor Hugo, the Leon Gambetta, the Jules Ferry and the Michelet are already members.

....General James Grant Wilson of New York has a large, old-fashioned seal ring, containing the hair of Washington, Hamilton, Lincoln, Grant, Napoleon and Wellington. "Washington's hair," he said in a recent address, "was given to me by his stepson. Lincoln's hair was given to me by the martyred President himself. A number of us were with Lincoln one day, when I asked him for a lock of his hair. 'Help yourselves, gentlemen!' was his reply."

Potatoes Vienna Style.—Mash hot, well cooked and drained potatoes and season liberally with salt and butter; add a very little cream or rich milk and beat until light and smooth; two or three beaten egg yolks may be added, but are not a necessity. The mixture needs to be dry rather than moist. Shape into portions similar to a Vienna roll, having pointed ends. Score each three times to simulate the rolls, brush over with the yolk of an egg beaten and diluted with a little milk and set into the oven to become very hot and brown the top.

HIS LITTLE BLUFF.

[Louisville Courier-Journal.]

She was such a pretty girl
That I wondered why the churl
Didn't pay
More attention to the maid—
There he sat and nothing said
While the crowded Pullman sped
On its way.

I pronounced him king of chumps
To sit silent in the dumps
With a queen,
Dainty, winsome, natty, neat,
Dancing-eyed, attractive, sweet,
There beside him on the seat
All serene.

But when they arose to go
Then I understood, you know,
In a trice
Why he had been such a bore,
For I saw upon the floor
What I hadn't seen before—
Grains of rice!

"Well, how the dickens am I to find out my mistake if I am mistaken?"

"Oh marry the woman, by all means."—[Home Notes.

Rimer—Have you read any of those versified advertisements I'm writing for "Phissick's Pink Panacea?"

Crittick—Yes, and they make me sick.

Rimer—Good. That's the effect I want them to have. It helps the sale of "Panacea."—[Philadelphia Ledger.

A story was told by Lord Claud Hamilton at a dinner of the Fly Fishers' Club. An Irishman had caught a big pike. Noting a lump in its stomach, he cut it open. "As I cut it open there was a mighty rush and a flapping of wings," said he, "and away flew a wild duck; and, begorra, when I looked inside, there was a nest with four eggs, and she had been afther sitting on the nest."—[San Francisco Argonaut.

Seed Salesman—Has the wave of reform that is sweepin' the country struck this vicinity yet?

General Storekeeper of Hankins's Corners—Yep! Shouldn't wonder if we had an investigation before another week passes. Shouldn't wonder the least mite.

Seed Salesman—Yes? What will be investigated?

General Storekeeper—Frenzied hoss swappin'! I hear as how the Reform Hoss Swappin' League's bin busy for the last month er so lookin' up the records uv several uv the most hippycritical—tew say the least—uv our leadin' citizens hereabouts.—[Puck.

"Once upon a time there lived a good man in New York who was soliciting contributions for the erection of an orphan asylum," said the storyteller. "He had been to many rich people and received liberal contributions, which were entered in a book he had for that purpose. Among these many names there appeared, 'Mrs. Russell Sage, $25.' The good man went to Mr. Sage's office, and showing him the contribution entered in the book by Mrs. Sage, asked him if he would not give a like sum. And what do you suppose he did?"

"Well, I suppose he at least doubled it," remarked a listener.

"Doubled it! Not Russell!" exclaimed the teller of the story. "Why, he simply took his pen and wrote 'Mr. and' before his wife's name and handed the book back to the good man."—[Harper's Weekly.

THOUSAND HORSES POISONED.

Leader of Gang Arrested and Sentenced to Penitentiary.

NEW YORK, May 3.—The alleged leader of a gang that it is charged has poisoned over a thousand horses in Greater New York during the last five years was sentenced yesterday to serve a year in the penitentiary. He was Samuel Geller, 30 years of age, of Brooklyn.

Geller was charged with having poisoned seven horses by giving them arsenic. When the case was closed, Superintendent Charles H. Hankinson, of the society for the prevention of cruelty to animals, told the court that Geller's conviction was one of the greatest victories in the interest of dumb animals he ever knew of. He said:

"Geller has been the head of a gang that has wilfully destroyed hundreds and hundreds of horses during the last five years. The members of the gang hire out to rival business men, and by administering arsenic to the horses of one or the other reap a rich harvest. The tortures the poor beasts suffer in being thus put to death is indescribable."

Don't wait until bald

before taking proper care of your scalp. Begin now by shampooing your head regularly each week with which will remove all dandruff, cleanse the hair and scalp, and invigorate the hair follicles. SPIM Soap does not take the natural oil out of the hair, but leaves it soft and silky,—not dry, harsh and brittle as other soaps do. You will never shampoo with any other soap after once using SPIM. THE HOSPITAL CONTROVERSY.

The matter of the care of the city's sick is still in abeyance. The committee of the City Council which was to consider the Newport Hospital's proposition took a long time to arrive at a conclusion, and finally made a divided report, but no action was taken on either report. It is fully time something definite was done regarding this subject. The proposition made by the hospital trustees is exceptionally advantageous, giving the city a price for the care of the sick which is far below the cost of caring for the patients whom the city might send to the hospital. Were it not for an attempt on the part of several physicians and their friends to have a city hospital established it unquestionably would have been eagerly stepped upon by the city authorities. Few cities have such advantages as the Newport Hospital offers for the care of the sick, or at so low a rate for the treatment and Newport ought to "jump" at such an offer.

But there is a determined effort on the part of a few to have a fully equipped hospital maintained by the city, and these few control enough votes in the present City Council to prevent any agreement with the Newport Hospital, no matter how excellent are the advantages offered. Newport cannot afford to establish such methods a city hospital, and there is no need of a costly municipal plant while we have so admirably conducted an institution as the Newport Hospital. The whole controversy is unseemly and is due to personal and professional jealousies which are costing and are likely to cost the city much more than it would spend for the care of its poor and dependent sick. It is time the controversy was ended and the city managed in accord with its best interests.

RACE SUICIDE IN ENGLAND.

Great Britain seems to need the race suicide doctrine preached in that country. The report just printed of the marriages and births in that country shows a steady decline in both, which is a matter worthy of note in connection with the discussion of the subject on this side of the ocean. Race suicide apparently is not confined to this country and President Roosevelt therefore was striking at a feature of modern life more widespread in its operation than he apparently knew. He undoubtedly thought of the matter only as affecting this country and its people, but here is an evidence that race suicide is international and that the crusade needs to be preached across the ocean as well as on this side. It is probable, however, that if he had known how extensive the evil is which he deplored he would have been more explicit rather than less so in his words upon the subject.

Perhaps, however, the evil is not an unmixed one in Great Britain. That realm is over-crowded with subjects and the government is so glad to get rid of some of the surplus of its people that it provides means for them to come here and settle, so that the congested conditions of population in the large cities may be relieved to some extent. Under these conditions a decline in the birth rate has some advantages. Similar conditions, however, do not obtain to the same extent in this country, which is big enough to find room for any who desire to stretch out over the adjacent territory and for such the race suicide theory has no attraction. The most interesting feature of the matter, however, is that our people are not the only ones who are guilty in this respect, and that if the tendency is stopped it will need to be by an international movement.

THE CORRUPTING SLOT MACHINE.

The extent to which the use of slot machines has developed is shown by the statement made by a man in Paterson, N. J., when the police recently ordered all these machines out of the saloons, barber shops and tobacco stores. That he had lost more than $200 a week by the action of the authorities. This fact reveals how enormous are the profits of these machines to those who own or lease them, and also how large is the patronage. When it is still further considered that a large part of those who play the machines are children and half-grown boys, the menace which this form of gambling is to the youth of the country is plainly seen. This is one of the most insidious forms of vice to which young men and young women are subject, and to what an enormous extent it has grown is not appreciated except by those whose duties require them to make observations along this line. Slot machines are common articles of equipment in many of the small stores of a large part of the cities of the country, and every slot machine is a corrupter of youth.

The love of gambling seems to be deep-rooted in the nature of mankind. It crops out in many forms, some mild and others aggravated, but all insidious and serious in their effects upon the moral principles of the people. We see it in the craze for bridge whist, in the selling of horse pools, in all the many kinds of lotteries, which are adopted to stimulate and satiate the demand for taking chances in these slot machines and in a thousand and one forms. The children acquire the love for the excitement of the game very early, and find opportunities to indulge their fondness for it on every hand. See the small boys in the big cities, shooting craps on the sidewalks of the alleys, with one eye open to watch for the appearance of the police and the other intent on the dice. See the boys and the girls frequenting the small stores of the neighborhood where they live, and follow them and find that it is not candy they are after but a chance to play the slot machines. See the boys and young men on the street cars, matching pennies for the fares. Looking almost anywhere and everywhere, and the youth of our cities and our homes can be found indulging in one way or another this propensity to gamble.

But how can anything else than this condition be expected when their elders do the same thing, perhaps in a different way, but with the same end and the same enjoyment, and when the temptations which perhaps enticed and corrupted them are permitted to flourish before the eyes of the younger set. It is not strange that the latter take to gambling in some form. They have every inducement to do so, and every opportunity. We are not enough alive as a people and as individuals to the danger which this condition causes to the youth of the country. The morals of the young people are being corrupted beyond calculation, and we are sitting idly by and doing nothing to stop it, or perhaps are actually aiding in the process by our own devotion to the same practice and our own yielding to the same temptations. It is time something were done to prevent the spread of the gambling habit among the youth, and one most effectual method would be to abolish the use of slot machines. It can be done, and it ought to be done, in the interest of the children and the youth who are to be the next generation, unless we want that generation to be still more steeped in this vice than is the one which now holds the reins of power in this country.

OBJECTIONS TO THE FREE ALCOHOL BILL.

In years past the Treasury Department has urged two objections of substantial character, so far as they went, against the bill to remove the tax from alcohol used industrially. One was that the government would lose revenue which it needed. The other was that the wood alcohol, or other thing mixed with the ethyl alcohol to render it unfit for drink, could be separated and the purified alcohol used in making whiskey to the loss of the treasury and of honest distillers or rectifiers. But as manufacturers use little tax-paid alcohol the remission of tax on alcohol to be used involves little decrease of revenue. The separation of methyl from ethyl alcohol is not so easy as the Internal revenue office used to suppose; it would not pay. Practically the Treasury Department has withdrawn all the objections it formerly offered to this measure, for which manufacturers have been clamoring many years.

Who has any right to object, then? Curiously enough, the manufacturers of wood alcohol have insisted that the tax should be maintained, in order to compel manufacturers to buy their product, and as alcohol is expected to take the place in some small degree of kerosene and gasolene for lighting and for small heaters and motor engines, the Standard Oil interests have manifested hostility to this measure. It is a monstrous proposition that a tax should be maintained for the sake of private parties whose business is benefited by it. A tax is imposed for the purpose of providing public revenue, and if it fails to do that, or is no longer needed, it should be repealed without further controversy. To maintain a tax on alcohol in order to compel people to buy wood alcohol or gasolene is a preposterous perversion of the taxing power of the government. Wood alcohol is only a by-product of the making of charcoal and acetate of lime.

John Mitchell is the controlling force in the mine workers' convention which meets at Scranton, Pa., today, and it is evident that whether or not there shall be a strike of the men depends entirely upon him. Most of the delegates refuse to discuss the situation. The few who do talk, when asked if they think there will be a strike, invariably say: "There's only one man knows that, and he is John Mitchell." Others meet all questioning by saying: "We will stand by Mitchell." Mitchell is evidently supreme.

Hecla and Stromboli, jealous of Vesuvius and San Francisco, are now in eruption. Under the impression that it would be a drawing card with tourists, it was reported from the Puget Sound region that Mt. Tacoma--or Mt. Rainier, as the city of Seattle knows it,--was in eruption. Haste was made to contradict this as soon as it was realized that, as the present state of the public mind, volcanic activity adds nothing to the value of real estate in the vicinity and is not calculated to popularize neighboring hotels.

The report of Commissioner Garfield of his investigations of the Standard Oil Company, which will be presented to Congress tomorrow, is said to show that the company has exacted and received millions of dollars in rebates from the large railroads, in violation of the Elkins law, and that the government, acting on this report, has already begun prosecutions against the company.

The proposed march of Rev. Father Sheridan through the parts of Georgia made famous by his father's march to the sea stirred up the South as nothing in recent years has done. Evidently there are some persons in that section who cannot forget the war.

Very early in the effort for the relief of California His Honor, Mayor Cottrell, fixed $10,000 as the sum which Newport would contribute to that object. The result has shown that the mayor was quite right in his estimate.

The showers yesterday were decidedly like April, but the downpour in the evening can be credited to no particular month.

BLIND PEOPLE'S QUEER HOBBIES.

[THIS DAY.]

The writer recently had the pleasure of meeting a certain well known and highly gifted oculist who numbers among his patients some of the wealthiest blind people in the world, and who volunteered some interesting information relative to the different ways in which those who have lost their sight pass their time.

"One of the most curious hobbies among my blind patients," said the specialist, "is practised by a lady who lost her sight 16 years ago. She is really a remarkable florist, and her flower beds, her vineries and her hothouses are worthy of a king's garden. Although she has, of course, some assistance the majority of the work is performed by herself, and she has become remarkably expert in the selection of bulbs and seeds.

"I have often watched her in one of her conservatories going from plant to plant, picking off a dead leaf here, tying upon fallen branch there, tapping the pots to see if water were wanted, and acting just as any other gardener would act who possessed his full complement of senses. I have seen her 'cut out' a bed of young geraniums and 'set' the plants with remarkable exactitude. She measures the distances with a small rule, and seldom is she out in her calculations. She gets an immense amount of enjoyment out of her hobby, and she has told me over and over again that while pursuing it she almost forgets the loss of her sight. She is contemplating founding an institution where blind people may learn gardening, and when she does I am sure it will be a great boon.

"Then I have another patient, a man this time, who lives in the country and who passes his time looking after a score or more of beehives. He manages them with marvellous skill. Is remarkably successful and never gets stung; in fact, the bees appear to know him well and seldom attempt to molest him. During the last few years this gentleman, who, by the way, only lost his sight as recently as 1900, has secured several hundredweight of honey, which he never sells, but gives much of it to his friends and sends the rest to various blind institutions.

"Among my child patients who have lost their sight I could tell you of many interesting hobbies. I have one little patient, however, who has made some wonderfully good scrapbooks, and it is marvellous how clever she is in arranging them. Of course, the scraps are of the colored kind, already cut out, and by the feel she can at once tell whether it is a bird, a flower, or an animal, and she arranges them with excellent taste.

"Then among my young men patients there is one blind boy of 19 who is wonderfully expert in making flies for fishing. If he were a poor boy he could make a lot of money by his hobby, but he is wealthy and only fashions flies for his own amusement and to give to his friends. Sometimes the young man himself goes fishing, for he keenly enjoys the sport, and I have often met him coming home with a well filled basket of fine trout caught by the flies which he has made."

NARROW ESCAPE FROM AVALANCHE.

An American of the name of Kendrick and his wife, accompanied by two guides, ascended Point D'Ormy, near Geneva, Switzerland, the other day. The climb is a dangerous one at this time of the year. As they began to descend they suddenly slid downward at an alarming speed. They had started an avalanche. Their movement increased until they were going at express speed. Mr. Kendrick says:

"I thought every moment that we should be dashed in pieces, as I knew of the huge precipices on the flank of the mountain. Suddenly I was brought up with a jerk which shook the breath out of me. We had stopped on a ledge, three yards from the brink of a fathomless depth into which the avalanche rolled with a roar. We owe our lives to Guide Dupraz, who had dexterously clasped a projection of rock and clung to it, thereby bringing us up with a tremendous jerk on the rope, which, fortunately, did not break."

Hearing on Cristy Charges Against Chief of Police Matthews.

Fires in Providence and in Woonsocket—Fined for Concealing Automobile Number.

After a five hours' sitting on the charges preferred by Rev. Albert B. Cristy against Chief of Police Frank A. Matthews of Providence, during which only one witness besides Mr. Cristy was examined, the board of police commissioners adjourned at 7:30 o'clock last evening until this morning, when the cross-examination of Samuel H. Meinhold, which was in progress at the hour of adjournment, was resumed. Mr. Cristy, the complainant, was under the fire of the cross-examination of the chief from 3 o'clock until 4:30, and Mr. Meinhold, who was then called in from the crowd of 25 or 30 witnesses in waiting, was on the stand from about 4:45 until 7:30, a space of nearly three hours. Mr. Cristy, Mr. Meinhold and the members of the commission would not say anything definite after the adjournment as to what testimony had been given during the afternoon. There was a general understanding between all the parties, however, that the evidence which would be permitted would be confined to those matters which have a direct bearing on the charges, and the allegations contained in the affidavits of John R. Nash, proprietor of the penny vaudeville establishment, in connection with the business of which the charges had their inception, and his manager, Mr. Meinhold.

Another attempt to produce a big lumber yard fire was made in Olneyville shortly after midnight, when an incendiary started a blaze in a pile of laths in a section of L. Sweet & Co.'s yards, between West Bleachery street and the Woonasquatucket river, on the westerly side of Valley street. The main yard is located between Valley street and Harris avenue. The section where the fire was started is of considerable size and filled with an assortment of lumber. The starting of this fire resulted in the arrest of a youth named George Ferguson, who was locked up on the technical charge of being a suspicious person. Ferguson is the one who sounded the alarm. When the firemen arrived they found a brisk blaze in a pile of laths heaped near the wall in the part of the yard most remote from the street. The fire was extinguished before great damage was done. The firemen believe they found traces of coal oil, and in view of the rain which fell yesterday they did not believe that the laths would burn if they had not been saturated with oil. The police found that Ferguson did not remain at the box after sounding the alarm, but left another man there to direct the firemen. When he was found he was placed under arrest and taken to the station. He said he was going through the yard to see some fellows fishing on the bulkhead at the river bank, and saw the blaze and sounded the alarm. Ferguson works in a Chinese restaurant in Olneyville and the police say he spent the evening in a saloon near the scene of the fire, leaving there shortly before midnight.

A triple alarm this morning called the entire fire department of Woonsocket to the Hoyle Bobbin Company's brick factory on Snow street, near Pond. The main building is two stories high, and in the rear there is a three-story ell, in which the dry room, filled with thousands of dollars' worth of dry wood, is located. It was in this ell that a lunch cart man discovered the blaze as he returned with his cart from the night's work. Five or ten minutes after the firemen arrived Chief Neil realized the dangerous character of the blaze and ordered a second alarm turned in, and later a third. The insurance is $12,000 on the building, and $6,000 on the stock. At 3 o'clock this morning it looked as though the ell would be destroyed, with all the stock contained therein. The fire was under control at 3:15. The loss, according to estimates at this time, will reach on stock and building, $10,000, which is covered by insurance.

It cost John Morris $22.60 to make an ineffectual attempt to conceal the identity of his automobile number, and incidentally his own. Tuesday afternoon on Dorrance street, Providence, his arraignment in the Sixth District court yesterday morning furnishing the first case of its kind ever handled there. An hour earlier in the police court Morris was fined $2 and costs on a charge of drunkenness, while as a result of a series of mishaps in which the machine and its driver figured, Alfred Hill, a boy living at 152 Pond street, is at home with an injury to one of his feet, where, the police claim, it was run over by a wheel of the automobile. In an attempt to steer clear of the lad Morris ran his machine into a trolley pole, whereupon he was arrested on charge of drunkenness. The charge on which he was prosecuted was that of operating an automobile without having the registry number of the vehicle displayed on it in Arabic numerals not less than three inches long. He pleaded guilty, but said he had removed the number just before running over the boy. Judge Rueckert fined Morris $20 and costs, which is the maximum assessment, although the law provides for an alternative penalty of three months in jail.

The feature of the annual Brown inter-class track meet, held yesterday afternoon, was the remarkable work of Mayhew of the Freshman class, who secured four firsts and two seconds, thereby contributing 26 of the 49 points, which gave his class the leading honors. He was at his best in the 120-yard hurdles, in which he broke the college record by traveling the distance in the fast time of 17 3-5 seconds. The previous record was 18 flat. In the 100-yard dash and the two-hurdle events he had practically no opposition and won as he pleased. The other first place which he placed to his credit was in the broad jump, in which he did 19 feet 5 inches. In the high jump he finished a close second to Sturdy, the winner, and in the pole vault he made second with ease. Outside of the work of Mayhew, the stellar performance was furnished by Ufford, '09, in the pole vault, in which he broke the college record by clearing 9 feet 10¾ inches. The previous mark was 9 feet 8 inches. Had it not been for the heavy down pour of rain in his closing trials there is little doubt that he would have done 10 feet or better. With Mayhew to rely on for the first places, and some good second and third men, the Freshmen had little difficulty in winning out with a total of 49 points. The Sophomores were second with 29. The Seniors third with 26 and the Juniors fourth with 22. Mayhew made as many points as the whole Senior team.

The State Armory commission has decided to adopt the suggestion of the brigade officers for the alterations proposed in the interior lay out of the new armory. The changes, which will cost in the neighborhood of $1,000, were outlined in a rough draft submitted to the commission prepared by the architects. They involve the re-location of several partitions and some foundation work to support them. The bid for the carpentry and masonry work necessary was awarded to M. J. Houlihan, the contractor engaged on the construction of the building. The commission authorized the architects to prepare working plans and proceed to make the changes proposed. It is expected that the work will be commenced within a few days, and that thereafter the completion of the armory will be a matter of but a few months, as the $350,000 armory bonds will be marketed this week or next, and there will be ample funds available for all present needs. The alterations will secure to the armory up-to-date facilities in every essential particular, including additional sanitary arrangements, shower baths for the officers and men, a library and dining room, a gymnasium, headquarters' rooms for the officers of each regiment, rooms for the non-commissioned staffs, a property room for each company adjacent to the company rooms, and other minor conveniences leading to the increased efficiency of the service.

JAMESTOWN.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

Mr. James Collins of Newport has so far recovered from his recent illness as to be able to visit his place here today.

Mrs. James Buttrick, Jr., of New York is expected to arrive Saturday at the Smith cottage at the Dumplings for the season.

The Ladies' N. Y. Whist Club gave a surprise party to Mrs. G. L. Barber, one of their number, at her home on Winsor street. An enjoyable evening was spent at progressive whist. Mrs. Barber winning the first prize and Mrs. Albert Boone the consolation.

Steamer Conanicut made an early trip this morning, to carry to Newport passengers who arrived on the New Line from New York.

Carpenters are erecting a barrel shed on Ferry wharf for the accommodation of fishermen wishing to ship their catches by the Enterprise line to New York.

A special meeting of the town council has been called for this afternoon, to act on the petition of the Telegraph and Telephone Company, for permission to run a line across the Island from Fox hill to the Dumplings.

The monthly practice of the firemen was not held last evening, owing to the heavy rain.

In spite of the rain there was quite a gathering on the wharf to watch the loading of New Line steamer Kennebec last evening. Several passengers and about 40 barrels of fish were taken on board.

A. W. Luther has rented for Lydia E. Gilmore her furnished cottage, situated on High street and the Cliffs, to H. S. Worthington.

ADVICE FOR MEN WITH LITTLE MONEY.

[Chicago Tribune.]

After numerous sad experiences the people ought to be filled with suspicion when new and untried men volunteer to take charge of their money. Suspicion should be intensified when extra inducements are held out to them. A high interest rate is attractive, but it is dangerous. If a man whose savings are in a solid, substantial bank which pays three per cent is invited to transfer his account to some new bank which offers four or five per cent, he should investigate before making the change. If he finds that three per cent is the prevailing rate of trustworthy banks, he should say to himself that the four per cent is a bait which hides a hook.

Savings bank depositors are often lured to draw out their money and buy with it "gilt edged securities" which will pay them twice the interest rate they are getting. If they leave their money in the banks they can get it when they want it. The interest is small but certain. If they buy the securities which have a tempting interest rate they will not be able to get their money when they want it, and may not get it at all.

The man who has only a little money and no financial experience can not be too distrustful of the generous banker who sends his wild advertisements flying to tell the people that if they will go to him he will do more for them than bankers who have characters to lose and real money—not stage money—to lend.

THE COLONEL AND THE MOSQUITOES.

[Buffalo Commercial.]

The Rev. B. P. Fullerton of St. Louis, in addressing a Presbyterian meeting in Philadelphia the other evening, told the following story by way of illustrating how diverse schools of thought were coming together nowadays: "A Northern visitor was spending the night with the colonel, who lived on the lower, swampy reaches of the Mississippi. The stranger suffered severely because there were no mosquito nettings over his bed, and the next morning asked Sam, the colored bodyguard of the master of the house, how it was that the latter could manage to exist amid the pernicious activity of these small augers of the air. 'It's des lak dis, boss,' answered Sambo. 'In de day part ov de night de colonel's so drunk dat he don't pay no 'tention to de skeeters, an' in de las' part ov de night de skeeters is so drunk dat dey don't pay no 'tention to de colonel.'"

LAWYER MAKES STATEMENT.

Possesses Proof that Gapon Was Not Murdered by Revolutionists.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 3.—M. Margolin, the attorney for Father Gapon, who recently received the mysterious package from Berlin containing several of the personal belongings of the missing man, today published a statement that he possesses proof that Gapon was not murdered by revolutionists.

SHARP DEBATE IN HOUSE.

Midnight Liquor Law Referred Back to the Committee.

BOSTON, May 3.—The midnight liquor law bill was referred back to the committee on liquor laws in the house today, in concurrence with a similar action taken yesterday in the senate. This was at the request of Governor Guild, who is willing to sign a bill which will affect Boston alone. The general bill, which was passed to both branches, but to which the governor objects, would affect besides Boston, the cities of Fall River, New Bedford, Lawrence, Lynn, Springfield, Cambridge, Lowell, Somerville, Brockton and Worcester, provided that those places voted for license and accepted the provisions of the act.

The action in the house today followed a sharp debate, during which Speaker Cole left the chair to defend the governor's attitude upon the floor. Representative Mellen of Worcester opposed reference back to the committee. He charged that Governor Guild's special message upon the bill was unprecedented and unconstitutional. He declared that in effect it was a veto.

President Walsh Held for Grand Jury.

CHICAGO, May 3.—John R. Walsh, former president of the defunct Chicago National Bank, was today held for the federal grand jury in bonds of $50,000 by United States Commissioner Mark Foote. The bonds were at once furnished by Mr. Walsh.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—The work of renovating the Newport County jail has begun.

—Mr. E. P. Hamlet is here from New London for a few days.

—Mr. and Mrs. William James Dawley (Miss Wilson) have returned from their wedding trip.

—Captain Benjamin B. Briggs has returned from New York, where he has been spending the winter.

—Mrs. William Jurgens and her daughter have returned from a two weeks' visit to New York.

—Dr. Henry T. Coggeshall of New York has leased cottage 8 at Montrew Park for the coming season.

J. B. Parsonage has rented for Mrs. C. Logler the upper tenement at the corner of Spring and Dixon streets to Michael Meadle.

—Curbing is being carted to Merton road, a portion of which the City Council has authorized the highway department to fix.

—The fire alarm was heard striking one blow several times this morning; cause, the installation of the new fire box at Spring street and Morton avenue.

—Joseph S. Anthony has purchased, at mortgagee's sale for $5,100, the William Murray estate, bounded east, 56 feet, on Spring street, and south, 77 feet, on Cannon street.

—The wind blew considerably this noon, and raised the dust. It seemed last night as though there would never be any dust, but this noon it began to blow and there were calls for the watering carts.

—Mrs. John S. Johnson died quite suddenly this morning at the home of her brother, Dr. M. H. Sullivan, on Touro street. She leaves a husband, who is a driver for the Adams Express Company, and four small children.

—Among United States Hotel arrivals are W. D. Reynolds and P. W. Baker of New York, L. J. Champlin of New London, M. Kaufer of Providence, W. C. Austin of Springfield and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Rice of Warren.

—A. O'D. Taylor has rented for the Builders and Merchants Exchange the central store, with extra office opening into it, on Washington square, in the block next the National Exchange Bank, to C. H. Benner of the Plaza Market, Washington, D. C.

—This morning Mr. Louis Bronsiere registered at the Casino, his being the first name to go on the register this season. With this kind of weather, and especially with New York and vicinity as hot as it is, Newport may expect a large number of registries soon.

—The first open-grown island asparagus is shown today in Mr. F. B. Coggeshall's market. The asparagus was grown in the garden of Mr. Albert Lawrence of Portsmouth, who has before this sent the first local asparagus to the market. It looks good.

—At a meeting of the St. Andrew's Society last evening Mr. Hugh Miller, who is soon to leave Newport, was presented with a handsome locket, the presidents, Dr. A. L. Anderson, making the presentation in behalf of the society. Later there was a social session.

—It is expected that Captain John Porter Merrell will be the next president of the War College. Captain Merdent of the War College. Captain Merrell has just been relieved from the command of battleship Oregon, which is undergoing repairs at Bremerton. He was stationed at the War College about eight years ago.

—The Major A. A. Harker Association of Spanish-American War Veterans will this year have a clambake across the beach, instead of indoor dinner, as in the past. All the members have been accustomed to eating outdoors, and it was thought that a clambake would seem more natural than a formal indoor dinner, which does not remind one of camp cooking.

—The St. George's School baseball team went to Fort Adams yesterday and played a return game. The air at the fort did not seem to agree with the school team, for the soldiers shut them out, 2 to 0. The sides were the same as in the game at St. George's school last Saturday, when St. George's won. The Fort Adams band played during the game, which may explain why the school team did not win. There was a fair attendance of spectators.

—The report of the Newport Animal Refuge for the month of April is as follows: April 1 there were in the refuge 4 cats and 4 dogs, received during the month 33 dogs and 51 cats, found homes for 5 dogs and 6 cats, destroyed 19 cats and 23 dogs. At present there are in the refuge 3 cats and 9 dogs, which any one can have who will give them comfortable homes. The Refuge has been enlarged and improved, and all kinds of pets are now cared for at moderate rates.

—The funeral of Katie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Murphy, took place this morning from her parents' residence on Slocum street, to St. Mary's Church, where a large number of relatives and friends, including all the classmates of the deceased at St. Mary's parochial school, were in attendance. There was a large number of floral tributes. Rev. William B. Meenan celebrated the funeral mass. The burial was in the family plot in St. Columba cemetery, the bearers being classmates of the deceased.

SPECIAL MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT.

Congress of an appropriate resolution to that end.

"Theodore Roosevelt."

"White House, May 3, 1906."

REPLIES TO BAILEY.

Senator Nelson Addresses the Chamber on the Rate Bill.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—When the Senate met today Mr. Tillman asked for the postponement of his resolution for the investigation of the evidence of Mrs. Minor Morris from the White House last winter.

Mr. Nelson then addressed the Senate on the railroad rate bill, in opposition to Mr. Bailey's amendment, depriving inferior United States courts of the power of suspending orders of the interstate commerce commission.

He said that if Congress could circumscribe the powers of one court, it could limit the powers of all, and thus dismantle the judicial branch of the government—a deprivation which would carry the United States back to primitive times. He admitted that Congress had the physical power to dismantle the courts, but argued strenuously against the wisdom of such a course.

POINT OF NO QUORUM RAISED.

Sergeant-at-Arms Ordered to Bring in House Absentees.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—In the House today Mr Littlefield (Maine) presented a resolution authorizing the committee on expenditures of the Agricultural Department to send for persons and papers in the proposed investigation of that department.

Mr. William (Miss.), reserving the right to object, said that while this investigation is important, it is not half as important as providing schools for the children of the Indian Territory, as contemplated in the statehood bill. As he objected, the resolution went over.

Mr. Foss (Ill.) then moved that the House resolve itself into the committee of the whole for the consideration of the naval appropriation bill.

Mr. Williams called for a division of the vote, and then raised the point of no quorum. The doors were ordered closed, and the sergeant-at-arms was ordered to bring in the absentees.

CONVENTION OF MINE WORKERS.

Majority of Delegates Will be Guided by Counsel of Mitchell.

SCRANTON, Pa., May 3. Surcharged with the feeling that a strike will be the only means by which their demands upon the anthracite operators can be realized, the 630 delegates representing districts one, seven and nine of the United Mine Workers, covering the hard coal fields of Pennsylvania, assembled in joint convention in the Lackawanna county court house today, their national president, John Mitchell, presiding. Against this feeling of the miners' delegates there will be but one controlling element, and that will be the counsel that will come from Mitchell, for many of them, perhaps the majority, have been advised by their heads to be guided by his counsel. Here the people are about reconciled to the fact that the convention will declare a strike, and the only thing they feel can possibly avert it may be the recommendation when the real issue comes, that instead of the convention taking positive action, it refer the matter back to the locals for a referendum vote.

The convention assembled at 10:05 o'clock, President Mitchell was unanimously chosen presiding officer. After the appointment of the various committees a recess was taken until 1:30 this afternoon.

The appearance here yesterday of Dr. Charles P. Neill, the United States commissioner of labor, has given rise to much conjecture among the delegates. They are of the opinion that he acted as an emissary of the White House, and that he will report to President Roosevelt the views of John Mitchell on the possibility of adjusting the differences with the operators, without a strike being declared to force them to terms.

Strikers at Cleveland Still Hold Out.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 3.—So far as could be learned today there was no disposition on the part of either the lake carriers or the officers of the longshoremen's union, to take any step with a view to terminating the present marine strike, which has so effectually resulted in the almost total paralysis of commerce on the Great Lakes.

Buffalo Strike Situation Unchanged.

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 3.—The marine strike situation at this port is practically unchanged, and neither side shows signs of weakening. No efforts have been made to work the boats with non-union men.

Fall River Strikers to Return.

FALL RIVER, Mass., May 3.—The master builders and their employees had a conference this morning, when the terms of the year's agreement granting the men $1 per day were fixed upon, and the agreement was signed. The men will return to work tomorrow.

Headquarters Changed to Presidio.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Brigadier General Funston has advised the military secretary that the headquarters of the department of California will be moved today from its temporary location in Fort Mason, to the infantry cantonment at the Presidio of San Francisco.

PORTSMOUTH.

Routine Business Transacted at the Annual Financial Town Meeting.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

The annual financial town meeting was held Wednesday afternoon, opening at 10 o'clock. This is the meeting in which the money affairs of the town are discussed and voted upon, and in some years brings forth considerable oratory. This year the attendance was light and little or no excitement was manifested.

Moderator Henry Anthony called the meeting to order and Town Clerk William P. Brayton read the warrant. The town auditors' and the town treasurer's reports and the inventory of the town farm and its belongings were received and ordered on file.

It was voted that the tax be 60 cents on $100, the same as last year, and that the rate of interest for overdue taxes and other matters connected with taxpaying should be left the same as last year, and the penalty the same—one per cent.

The balance in the treasury of the dog fund was $518.27, and it was voted that $300 be retained and $218.27 be added to the school fund.

An appropriation of $800 was voted, as usual, to suppress the sale of intoxicating liquors.

The town treasurer was instructed to hire for the use of the town a sum not exceeding $10,000.

The sum of $1,000 was voted for work on public highways, and a like sum for the use of the public schools.

An appropriation was made for snow fences of $300, and of $150 for the Free Public Library.

The salaries of the town officials were fixed as follows: Moderator, $5; town clerk, $300; town treasurer, $100; tax collector, $200; tax assessors, $100; school committee, $100; clerk of school committee, $75; commissioner of insolvents, $10; overseer of the poor, $30.

It was voted that $2,000 of the $4,000 appropriated for the use of public schools be used for macadam roads under the direction of the town council.

Voted, that the vote standing against school district No. 1 endorsed by the late Jonathan A. Sisson, be taken up.

Rev. Allen Jacobs and B. Earl Anthony were appointed trustees to represent the town in the public library.

It was voted that the town take up all the notes against the several school districts.

Voted, that the petition of John M. Brownell & Son for lease of land be laid on the table.

Voted, to rescind the vote to lay the petition of John M. Brownell & Son on the table, and to take a paper ballot as to the will of the voters present in regard to letting the aforesaid land.

Voted, to rescind the vote in regard to taking up the notes of the several school districts.

Mrs. Edward Studley of Fall River and Miss Nettie Studley her daughter, have been guests of Mrs. Benjamin C. Sherman.

Mrs. J. W. Wilmarth of Central Falls has been guest three days this week of Mrs. William H. Border at Sandy Point farm.

Mr. John Davies of Brockton was guest of his sisters, Mrs. Jonathan A. Sisson and Mrs. John G. Barker, early this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brownell of Westport were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Anthony.

Mr. Charles N. Chase of Barrington was guest this week of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Chase.

GEORGE M. LAVERY.

Sudden Death From Heart Disease, of a Well Known Fruit and Produce Merchant.

Mr. George M. Lavery died quite suddenly this morning at his home on Cobb Earl street. He had been about his business as usual yesterday, and when this morning the business men who knew Mr. Lavery so well heard that he was dead the news caused a shock. He had not been feeling in the best of health but had been about his work and at the shop as usual. This morning he felt distressed and sent for a doctor, who said that nothing could be done; heart disease had done its work and the patient was practically dead when he reached his bedside.

Mr. Lavery had been in the fruit and produce business since coming here some 15 years ago and was well known to all in that line. He was a quiet man, who attended strictly to business and made friends in his quiet way among all who came to know him, for he believed in doing what was right. He was for a while in business with his brother, David E. Lavery, but for some time had conducted the business alone, having a shop on Market square. He was a native of Maine.

He was a member of St. Paul's Lodge, A. F. & A. M., and of St. John's Benevolent Association, and the lodge flag is at half-staff today. He was a member of Trinity Church, whose bell this afternoon tolled in his memory. He leaves a widow and one daughter, Grace, aged about 11 years; a brother, David E.; a sister, Miss Grace Lavery, who is a prominent worker in Trinity Sunday School and his mother, who resided with him and is seriously ill.

SCENES OF TERROR FOLLOW PEACE.

Wild Picture of Three Weeks' Orgy in Russian Post.

Convicts Prepare Warm Welcome for New Governor.

[Correspondence of the Associated Press.]

ST. PETERSBURG, April 22.—Belated letters from Alexandrovsky post, north Sakhalin, arriving by the first mail after months of interrupted communications, bring a wild picture of the three weeks' orgy of murder, arson and loot following the proclamation of peace and the evacuation by the Japanese of the northern half of the island. The wilder spirits among the prisoners, criminal and political, who form practically the entire population of Alexandrovsky post, broke loose from all restraint, applied the torch to public and private buildings, drank themselves into a wild fury and vented their passions in pillage and murder. Owing to the fierce October storms, the ships conducting the troops despatched to take possession of the island from the Japanese were driven off the coast and Colonel Valyuyeff, the military governor, landed with an escort of only 50 men, a scanty force with which to face hundreds of desperate convicts during the three weeks before further troops were able to land.

The convicts prepared a warm welcome for the new governor, setting fire the day he landed to the police headquarters and the great Alexandrovsky prison, 10 separate buildings, with accommodations for thousands of prisoners. Those were completely consumed, the Japanese having allowed the fire engines to become useless, but by the strenuous exertions of the Russian and Japanese soldiers, who worked side by side and patrolled the city to prevent further incendiarism, the fire was finally checked. The next day the Japanese troops retired, having first sold their accumulated stocks of provisions and liquor at incredibly low prices. Everybody became drunk, and with provisions enough for the winter and no necessity for working, many of them kept up the debauch for weeks.

To protect the city with his little garrison, and the prisons destroyed, the governor had to resort to extraordinary measures. The soldiers were ordered to make free use of their weapons and for petty offences the cudgel or knout was resorted to, thieves getting first 25 lashes, later 50 and finally a hundred. This sufficed, but the criminals leaving Alexandrovsky retired to places in the interior, and the governor was forced to divide his 50 men, sending 35 officers and 15 men to Dogibi, five men to Arkovo where the Japanese had left large stores of provisions, and three men each to Onor and Rykovo. The remnant stood guard day and night, but the convicts were ever resourceless, to set the torch to the chancellery of the governor, the club, the residence of the chief jailer and many other buildings.

During the raging storms four steamers and a schooner, including a 3,000 ton vessel from America, the German steamer Sinchaja, with a crew of 67 men, and the Vladivostok with 24 men, which were endeavoring to bring supplies to Sakhalin, were wrecked on the inhospitable winter coast of the island and all on board were lost.

Finally, after 22 days, ships with several thousand soldiers arrived and restored order. The new troops were without quarters however, owing to the destruction of all the crown buildings and many other houses, and suffered extremely from the severe cold until they could build barracks.

The correspondents describe the unleashed convicts as more like beasts than men, but say they stood by wholesome fear of the Japanese during the Japanese occupation, the population then being able to sleep with doors and windows unlocked, though hundreds of convicts were roaming the streets.

DARING REVOLUTIONIST PLOT.

Bored Tunnel of 700 Feet and Equipped it with Electrical Service.

[Correspondence of the Associated Press.]

BAKU, Caucasia, April 18.—A daring plot of Armenian revolutionists to rob the magazine in the arsenal here, guarded by the Sakhansk regiment and containing over a million rifle cartridges, the entire reserve supply for all the regiments composing the garrison, has been accidentally discovered when the conspirators were already on the very verge of success. They bored a tunnel 700 feet long in the direction of the arsenal. It was one of the most pretentious examples of subterranean work in revolutionary annals. From the basement of an Armenian house the revolutionists worked their way under several intervening residences at a depth of 20 feet. They constructed a completely sided tunnel, roofed it with planks and provided it with electric light and electric bell service connected with the stations of the several revolutionists on watch. Owing to a miscalculation, the tunnelers in burrowing upwards entered, not the magazine, but an adjoining store room in the arsenal containing uniforms. Before they had time to rectify their mistake the revolutionists were accidentally discovered by an officer, the alarm was given and troops were immediately thrown around the adjoining houses. But owing to the length of the tunnel the Armenian house from which the conspirators started was not suspected, and they had ample time to escape. The entrance of the tunnel was eventually discovered by volunteers, who entered it from the storeroom and traced the subterranean passage to its source.

EVIL OF BRIDGE.

[Canadian Magazine.]

Modern fiction, having for its background that which is known by the odious name, "Smart Set," does not show forth bridge whist as a game to be desired. The evil, however, is not in the game, but in the frantic folly of those who are not content to let it remain a pastime, but must make of it a serious and absorbing occupation.

REPORT OF THE AUSON BOARD SUBMITTED.

The report of the board of investigation of the circumstances relative to the supposed attempt at arson of J. E. Perry, cook to the commandant, upon the quarters of Rear Admiral Charles M. Thomas, U. S. N., was submitted to Captain Sawyer, commandant of the Training Station, yesterday afternoon and has been mailed to the Navy Department. The judge advocate general of the navy will decide if there is evidence enough against the accused cook to bring him to trial before a general court-martial for the offense of "arson."

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Mr. Rowland Hammond of Block Island is in town.

—Mrs. Cram and Mrs. J. Woodward Haven have gone to Lenox.

Mr. John Nagle, one of the leading fish buyers, is here for the season.

—Mr. and Mrs. William Cudworth Eustis have gone to Leesburg, Va.

—General and Mrs. J. F. Pierson will open their cottage at Tuxedo May 10.

—The tulip beds on the Mall are now in full bloom and make a fine appearance.

—Mr. Charles Hyde, formerly of this city, is here for a few weeks, from New York.

—Miss Pauline French, who has been guest of Mrs. Warren N. Eldridge, has returned to Tuxedo.

—Mr. W. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Forbes Morgan and Miss Elsie DeWolf have returned from Europe.

—The United Congregational Church will have a social in the chapel this evening, under the direction of the Women's Association.

—Contractor Evans of Philadelphia, who is to do the stone work on the new stable for Dr. Muldaur at "Hush Park," has begun work.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Rucker have given up their apartments at the St. Regis Hotel, New York, and are daily expected at their cottage in this city.

—Yesterday Captain Wickes, with the chief engineer, steward and crew of steam yacht Electra, arrived to put the yacht in commission as soon as she can be made ready.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. Van Rensselaer Kennedy will reach New York from abroad next Tuesday, and will go directly to their country establishment at Hempstead, Long Island.

—Mr. Lucey Baker of New York, who has the training of the Trinity Church choir, has taken a cottage at 25 Morton road for the season, where he and Mrs. Baker arrived yesterday.

—Mrs. George Peabody Wetmore, who has been abroad for a long time and is in Italy, will return to this country next month. She will soon be joined by her daughter, Miss Edith Wetmore.

—Additional mines have arrived for the navy and will go to the Torpedo Station. A number of anchors for these mines are at the Newport Foundry & Machine shop, to have alterations made.

—Tomorrow will be the first Friday of the month and there will be services at St. Mary's church at 7 and 8 a. m. and at 7:30 p. m. At St. Joseph's services will be at 5:30 and 8 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

—This season Newport is to have the latest thing in the cleaning line, as the vacuum system is to have an apparatus here. This does sweeping by means of a vacuum and puts the broom out of commission.

Owing to the prevalence of contagion diseases in the schools the past year, and the consequent poor attendance, it has been decided to postpone the exhibit which was to have been given in the new Rogers High School to June, 1907.

—Steamer Providence, whose place on the line was taken by the Priscilla, and which has since been laid up on the dry dock, arrived last night from New York and is tied up at the repair shops for an overhauling, before taking her place on the Providence line this summer.

—Mr. W. K. Vanderbilt, Mr. F. W. Vanderbilt, Mr. Samuel F. Barger and Mr. Hamilton McKay Twombly have been elected directors of the Michigan Central railroad, and these, with Mr. Chauncey M. Depew and Mr. James Stillman, have been elected directors of the Nickel Plate railroad.

An entertainment was given by the Choir Auxiliary of Emmanuel Church last evening, the attraction being stereopticon views, presented by Master William P. Sheffield 3d, in a creditable manner. The chief pictures were famous buildings of San Francisco. After this ice cream, cake and coffee were served.

—The Baroness von Zedtwitz and her children are at the Munchinger-Bedwood cottage on Redwood street. Her sister, the Marquise de Merinville, is not here, as reported, and has no intention of coming here. She is said has been so ill that only her sister, her nurse and maid and her physician have been allowed to see her for a long time.

—Now that scup have come there has been a falling off in the demand for the favorite Newport fish, the tautog, and fishermen were yesterday unable to dispose of all their catch. This fish is sold alive and the market is practically all local, Fall River and a few neighboring places being the only ones to which they are shipped.

—Yesterday Mr. Lloyd Mayer had his catboat launched from the yard of Williams & Manchester, where it wintered, and at once took her around to her summer mooring place off Sandy Point, in the east passage. She is the first pleasure craft to go into commission from this yard. Mr. L. L. Lorillard's new knockabout has been put overboard and the Marguerite, a Jamestown boat, was launched from the yard.

SPRING CATARRH

Wright & Hay Sell Hyomei Under Guarantee of Cure.

The changeable weather of spring is directly responsible for the prevalence of catarrhal troubles in Newport at the present time.

As a result, Wright & Hay had a larger sale of Hyomei the past week than ever before in the years that they have handled this reliable treatment for the cure of catarrh.

If there is a single catarrhal germ in the system, Hyomei will search it out and absolutely destroy it, completely eradicating the trouble. The remedy has made so many cures among Wright & Hay's customers that they offer to pay for it themselves if it does not benefit even the worst case of catarrh.

The complete outfit costs only $1, consisting of an inhaler, medicine dropper, and bottle of Hyomei, while extra bottles of Hyomei can be obtained for 50 cents. There will not be even this small expense if Hyomei does not cure, as Wright & Hay will return your money.

Story That Stanford University Buildings Were Poorly Constructed.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., May 3.—President David Starr Jordan yesterday gave this statement to the Associated Press:

"An article published Tuesday, declaring that the university buildings overthrown by the earthquake were fruitfully constructed and that specifications had not been adhered to in their structure, was apparently based on irresponsible gossip. The buildings under discussion—the memorial church, the new library and the new gymnasium—were strong enough for all practical purposes, although the gymnasium was somewhat weak and the dome could have been set in a stronger foundations. There seems to be no truth in all the charges which have been made. If there has been any graft in the construction of the gymnasium it remains for the university board of trustees to ferret it out. If there was graft in building the chapel and library Mrs. Stanford was swindled, because these structures were put up out of her money and under her direction. Undoubtedly the proper authorities will call in a competent engineer to investigate the ruins. Certainly the new Stanford will be made of steel, of the best material and earthquake proof."

EXCURSION BOATS AFFECTED.

Strike of Marine Men Ties Up Everything in Chicago Harbor.

CHICAGO, May 3.—The big excursion boats that run during the summer months, being an important factor in the amusement of Chicago people, may be tied up indefinitely as a result of the general strike of marine men. The strike grew beyond all expectations yesterday, when it was declared by the union men that no passenger boats which employed non-union mates could have union employes. Two excursion boats will be affected at once by this decision.

The tie-up in the Chicago harbor was complete during the day, the decision of the union regarding passenger boats being the last link in the chain which will prevent marine business being transacted from the city. There are more than a score of these boats scheduled to begin the season within the next few days, and their idleness will cost their owners thousands of dollars, even if the strike is not of long duration.

At a meeting of licensed tug men held last night the tug men decided to walk out as soon as orders were received from their national headquarters, probably today.

EVERYBODY LIKES GOOD PIE

There is no longer any excuse for poor pies on your table, as you should follow the lead of thousands and use D-Zerta Quick Pudding as a filling for pies. Try this recipe:

D-Zerta Chocolate Cream Pie.

Prepare a package of D-Zerta Chocolate Pudding according to directions on package, adding one-half cup of sugar. Put in crust which has been baked. Cover with meringue made with the whites of two eggs. This makes two large pies or three small ones.

All the five flavors—Lemon-Tapioca, Vanilla, Orange-Macaroon, Chocolate and Strawberry, can be used in the same way, and bananas, cocoanut, etc., added as desired. D-Zerta Quick Pudding is also used as a cake filling and for a pudding dessert. Simply add a quart of milk to contents of one package, bring to a boil, cool and serve with cream and sugar. Order from your grocer. 10 cents per package.

LEPERS RAISE RELIEF FUND.

To Forward Resolutions to Mayor of San Francisco.

HONOLULU, May 3.—The lepers at the settlement of Molokai have held a mass meeting at which they adopted long and eloquently worded resolutions in the Hawaiian language, expressing sympathy for the sufferers from the San Francisco fire. They also raised a relief fund, representing the subscription of 400 persons, who gave each from five cents up. The resolutions prepared by the lepers are of a profoundly religious tone and provide for the forwarding of resolutions to Mayor Schmitz of San Francisco. The money has been sent to the Honolulu board of health.

CAPACITY OF 300 PATIENTS.

Complete Regimental Field Hospital in Golden Gate Park.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—The medical department of the regular army has been putting into practice with good results experience gained in the camps established on the Atlantic coast during the Spanish-American war. Sanitary regulations have been provided. There has been established on a lawn south of the music stand in Golden Gate park a complete regimental field hospital. A detail of 100 men, under command of Captain H. H. L. Gilchrist, constitutes the administrative force and the hospital has now a capacity of 300 patients, although but 80 have been received to date. Every effort is being made by the health commission to concentrate the hospital work at as few points as possible.

While it is difficult to give exact figures as to losses and insurance in connection with the fire which has devastated such a large portion of San Francisco, close estimates have been compiled which show that the actual property losses to the city is close to $350,000,000.

Auditor Horton has filed his estimate of the receipts and expenditures of the city for the coming fiscal year. He figures the latter will amount to a total of $8,618,100.

LAUNDRY DESTROYED.

Fire Did Not Reach General Hospital at the Presidio.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—A fire which threatened the destruction of the general hospital at the Presidio, in which were more than 700 patients, broke out this morning in the laundry of the hospital. Besides the regular post fire organization hundreds of soldiers fought the flames. The laundry building and contents were destroyed, but by hard work the fire was confined to that building, and did not reach the hospital only a few yards away.

PRISONERS KNELT IN PRAYER.

Matron Describes Distressing Scenes Witnessed During Earthquake.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—Locked in separate cells in the city prison 100 prisoners whose crimes range from plain drunkenness to brutal murder, knelt in prayer when the earthquake of April 18 shook the hall of justice from basement to tower top.

Six-hardened men and women appealed to God to spare them. Their prayers for deliverance came only after it became apparent that the attendants could do nothing for them. The earthquake had so twisted and warped the cell locks that not a door could be opened for nearly an hour.

"I never want to witness such sights again," said Prison Matron Ryan, of the central station prison, who was on duty when the trembling came. "There were something like 80 men and 22 women in the cells on the morning of the earthquake. In our department there were abandoned creatures charged with all manner of crimes, many of whom seemed hopeless lost. They cried and shrieked for mercy when the shock came, and pleaded pitifully for release. Not one cell could be opened, and when I advised my charges of this fact they knelt on the hard cement floor and offered up a prayer in unison.

"In the department of the male prisoners the conditions were the same, and many of the men attempted to destroy themselves by battering their heads against the steel bars when they realized there was no chance for immediate release. They too prayed. When the attendant in charge managed to get them calmed and when it was all over, it was a meek and humble hundred that we removed to the branch county jail."

Miss Ryan was the last person to leave the city prison. She was detained by a female prisoner who became hysterical, and just as the matron walked under the immense glass dome covering the prison office, the glass fell about her and her prisoners with a mighty crash.

CONVICTED OF FORGERY.

Former College Professor Receives Sentence of Ten Years for Forgery.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 3.—Michael Angelo McGinnis, a former college professor and author of a standard work on mathematics, was convicted of forgery in the criminal court here yesterday and sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary. McGinnis and a confederate forged a deed to a city lot, and sold the property for $300. While in the penitentiary he wrote the book which made him famous with mathematics throughout the world. He called it "Algebra, the Universal Solution for Numerical and Literal Equations." After his release from prison the book was published simultaneously in America and England.

THE VENEZUELANS REFUSE ENVOY.

is the second time the Castro government has refused to receive a representative of Colombia.

Latin-American diplomats are at a loss to know just how the Castro government expected the treaty to be perfected and signed if the Venezuelans refused to receive the man empowered to act for Colombia, and there is much discussion of the unusual situation. Mr. Mendoza, the Colombian minister, is in New York, where he has been for several weeks, and the legation here has had no advices concerning the sudden break in what seemed to be the friendly relations between Colombia and Venezuela. It was through the good offices of the American minister, Mr. Russell, that protocols looking to a settlement of all difficulties were framed and signed in Venezuela last December, and it is suggested here that what is termed "the slap at Colombia" is an indirect thrust at the United States.

COMPOSERS ALARMED.

Exercised Over Bill to Permit Musical Works to be Rented.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The musical composers and publishers of the country are exercised over a bill recently introduced by Representative Bennet of New York, amending the copyright laws so as to permit musical libraries or others to lend or rent musical works. A hearing was held on the subject today, which was preceded by the reading of a telegram from John Philip Sousa, who said:

"Earnestly request that the American composer receive full and adequate protection for the product of his brain."

George W. Furniss of Boston argued against the bill from the publishers' viewpoint.

It was stated that a large business was growing up through the establishment of musical libraries, which advertised to rent to churches and other organizations musical compositions, such as oratorios, cantatas, etc. This practice mutually curtails the sales of these works, and is regarded as an injury to the composer and publisher.

DERRICK FELL INTO QUARRY.

Several Men Killed and Others Injured Near Rockland, Me.

ROCKLAND, Me., May 3.—Four men were killed and two severely injured today at the Ulmer Hardrock Quarry, owned by the Rockland & Rockport Lime Company. The accident was caused by the breaking of guy wires which allowed the derrick to fall into the quarry and dash out the brains of three of the men on the rocks 200 feet below. The fourth victim fell from the top of the derrick to the top of the bank, and sustained a scalp wound and internal injuries, from the effects of which he died within an hour. The dead: Fred Spear, 36, Rockland, leaves wife and children; Charles Colson, a Swede, 37, Thomaston, leaves a wife; John Kelleher, 35, Thomaston, unmarried; Edward Gross, 34, Rockland, leaves wife and child.

Daniel McDonald of Rockland and an unknown young man were bruised, but not seriously injured.

MRS. SHAW QUIETLY MARRIED.

Fathers of Groom and Bride too Ill to Attend Ceremony.

LONDON, May 3.—Mrs. Nannie Langhorne Shaw of Virginia, and Waldorf Astor, eldest son of William Waldorf Astor, were quietly married at All Souls Church, Langham place, London, at 2:30 this afternoon by the Rev. Francis Scott Webster, M. A., the vicar.

Neither William Waldorf Astor nor Mr. Langhorne, respectively the fathers of the groom and bride, were present, both being too ill to attend the ceremony.

Only immediate relatives and intimate friends of the couple knew of the arrangements, so the congregation was small. It included Ambassador Whitelaw Reid and Mrs. Reid, the Whitelaw Reid and Mrs. Reid, the staff of the American embassy, Mrs. Reginald Brooks, Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson and Mrs. T. Moncure Perkins, sisters of the bride, and the Duchess of Roxburghe. Charles Dana Gibson led the bride to the altar, and the groom was supported by his brother, John Jacob Astor. After the ceremony, which was the simple one of the Church of England, Mr. and Mrs. Waldorf Astor drove to the office of William Waldorf Astor, on the Victoria Embankment, where Mr. Astor is lying ill, to receive his congratulations. Mr. and Mrs. Waldorf Astor will spend the honeymoon at Ford Manner, Surrey, lent to them by Mr. and Mrs. Spenderclay. Later on they will go to the Continent. The newly married couple received many handsome presents, including the beautiful Cliveden estate, which Mr. Astor presented to his son with all its contents as a wedding gift. Mr. Astor also gave the bride a tiara, in which is set the famous Sancy diamond, weighing 53½ carats and valued at $75,000. The groom's present to the bride was a necklace formed by three rows of superb pearls.

How's Your Hair?

Wm. H. Cotton Announces That He Has at Last Secured a Cure for Hair Troubles.

We beg to announce to the people of Newport that we have secured the agency for one of the greatest discoveries of recent years. We refer to the prescription of Sir Erasmus Wilson, M. D., England's most successful specialist in diseases of the scalp, who was knighted for his many successes in the treatment of skin and scalp. Upon the death of Dr. Wilson this prescription was secured by American chemists and is now offered to the public under the name of Dr. Wilson's English Life to the Hair. This preparation will grow hair on bald heads even after all else fails. Unlike other hair preparations it is not sticky or greasy, but gives a live and glossy appearance to the hair. Miss Cornelia Stevens, 6 Smith avenue, Boston, Mass., says: "Dr. Wilson's English Life to the Hair grew a magnificent head of hair for me after I was told that I was becoming hopelessly bald. My hair now reaches nearly to my waist and is heavy and glossy. I cannot too highly recommend it." If you are growing bald, troubled with eruptions, dandruff scales or any scalp troubles try Dr. Wilson's Life to the Hair. Albert Chemical Co., Boston, Mass., proprietors. Sold by WM. H. COTTON, 275 Thames street. Price, 50 cents.

10—Prices in the stock market today opened generally higher than last night, with very heavy transactions in individual stocks. In the body of the list the gains were restricted to small fractions, but in special instances there were wide rebounds. Northern Pacific rose four, Great Northern preferred 3½, Anaconda, Northwestern and Pacific Coast 2, Wabash preferred, Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste Marie and Texas & Pacific 1½, Reading and Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis 1½ and a large number of prominent speculative stocks from a large fraction to a point.

11—Belated openings and advances of a point or more occurred while the market was showing heaviness on a realizing movement that started after trading had been well under way. In the gains referred to, Union Pacific was the most conspicuous stock, but its rise, as well as that of other leaders, was lost when the selling commenced. Reading led a sharp break before 11 o'clock, its decline reached 2¾. Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis sold at a decline of 9, Anaconda 7, Smelting, Great Northern preferred and Manhattan 2 and various stocks including St. Paul, Amalgamated Copper and United States Steel 1 to 1½. The market became much more active on the break, but supporting orders appeared and prices rallied before the end of the hour.

Noon: Money on call firm at 6 per cent; prime mercantile paper 5½ @ 6 per cent. Support for Reading and its recovery to above 115 quieted apprehension of renewal of forced liquidation. A sensational recovery followed all around, but the activity of the dealings materially diminished. The New York traction stocks were sharply depressed. A brisk demand developed before noon, which carried prices generally upwards. Bonds were irregular.

Pretty White Teeth

Are often spoiled because you don't use them sufficiently. You must chew your food thoroughly to avoid indigestion which causes a dry mouth and yellowish teeth. If you chew a CHICLET after each meal, you start the saliva's free flow and thus keep your teeth clean and bright. Those six drops of peppermint prevent indigestion.

AN EXCELLENT ENTERTAINMENT

Benefit Concert for San Francisco Sufferers at Opera House Merited a Larger Audience.

The concert and readings for the benefit of the California sufferers at the Newport Opera House last night merited a larger audience not only for the worthy cause but for the excellence of the entertainment. Certainly Newport should be proud of the aggregation of talent which gave such an excellent program. The use of the Opera House and all contingent expenses were furnished by Messrs. Cahn and Cross; the programs were furnished by A. Gladding, Jr., the Steinway piano by J. H. Barney, Jr., & Co., the pillos by Gibson Brothers, and all advertising by the city's dailies.

The stage was attractive with fables, chairs and plants and no effort was spared to make the affair a success. After the overture by the Opera House Orchestra "The Sword of Ferrara"—Dillard—was well sung by the Euterpe Club, Mr. William R. Boone conductor; Miss Lillian E. Mather gave with much feeling Bret Harte's "San Francisco Forty Years After," which was composed for Miss Mather for the occasion by Miss Ethel K. Simms-Nowell; Miss Annie Delscell sang "Roman Serenade"—Rotoli—Mr. Alfred G. Langley accompanying, and Dr. H. H. Luther sang with fine effect Gaschenoff's "For All Eternity," with violin obligato by Mr. John T. Greene, Mr. Boone accompanist. Part I was brought to a close by a violin solo, "Hejre Kati, Op. 32"—Hubay, Mr. Langley accompanist; a ladies' quartet, "Last Night"—Jerrit—Miss Coffey, first soprano; Miss Carley, second soprano; Miss Gurr, first alto, and Miss Downing, second alto, and "Rose of My Life"—Rose sung by Mrs. Carrie Doty-Sprouse, Mr. Boone accompanist. Mr. Greene's solo was particularly well received and was heartily applauded. No encore was given by Mr. Greene, however, or by any of the artists.

Between Parts I and II the orchestra rendered selections, and Part II opened with "New Home Concert Waltzes," Amsden; "Happy Hebe," Lampe, and "Amoureuse, Valse Lente," Berger—played by the Algonquin Mandolin and Guitar Club, Mr. Lewis Good director. Mr. Thomas R. Connolly, Mr. Boone accompanist, then sang "Don Bolt"—Knauss, receiving hearty applause, and Mr. Edward Luther gave Sarasate's "Zigeunerweisen, Op. 29," to the accompaniment of Miss Carley, Mrs. Mary Carley-Rooney next sang in her sweet, clear soprano "Berceuse," from "Jocelyn"—Godard—violin obligato by Mr. Walter Jeter, and Mr. Langley accompanist, and Mr. J. Frank Albro gave a pleasing rendering of "Love," from "Sergeant Kitty"—Sharpe, Mr. Langley accompanist. The program was brought to a close by Miss Anna M. Smith, who read by request the "curse scene" from "Leah the Forsaken" with much power; Mr. Thomas Livingston, who sang "The Grenadiers," Mr. Langley accompanist, and by Mr. C. F. Gifford, who sang well "Good Night, Little Girl, Good Night," Miss Carley accompanist. The accompanists, Mr. William R. Boone, Miss Florence Carley and Mr. Alfred G. Langley, were all excellent. Mr. Langley playing incidental music during Miss Smith's readings as well as furnishing many accompaniments.

SOUTHERN SINGING AND DANCING.

The J. C. Rockwell's "Sunny South" company is said to be one of the strongest colored shows on the road. It has played all the large cities of New England to crowded houses and delighted audiences. It carries band and orchestra and 25 real darkeys, introducing their funk and wing dancing, quartet singing, sketch teams, and a grand finale of 20 voices, the performance including good singing and dancing by colored people in their Southern pastimes.

A NEWSPAPER PLAY.

The four acts of "The Stolen Story" show a country place in the Berkshires, the editorial rooms of a New York daily, a corridor in the Metropolitan Opera House, and again the newspaper office. The characters have to do principally with journalism and politics, in the latter division most of the figures being typical of "the machine" in a large city. The exception to this is General Cunningham, a former cabinet officer who has gone into local politics with lofty motives. However, as "politics make strange bedfellows," he is obliged to call upon the machine for the support of a legislative bill providing for extensive local improvements.

The story concerns chiefly the newspaper work of "Billy" Woods, who loses his place on a big newspaper and while at work for another paper goes absent-mindedly to his old desk in the former office and gives a "big story" to the paper which has discharged him. It is played by a company including Jameson Lee Finney, H. Peyton Carter, Wright Cramer, Edwin Holt, Tully Marshall, James L. Seeley, Dorothy Tennant, Marion Abbott and Fanny Marimoff. The play has been rehearsed by George Marion, whose capacity has been shown repeatedly as general stage director for Mr. Savage. The play will be taken to the Tremont Theatre, Boston, next week.

OFFICIAL VISIT TO LAWTON POST

Department Commander George L. Greene of the Department of Rhode Island, Grand Army of the Republic, made an official visit last evening to Charles E. Lawton Post, No. 5, of this city. He was accompanied by Senior Vice Department Commander Edwin Wilcox, Junior Vice Department Commander William O. Milne, Department Inspector Moran, Chief of Staff Carlisle, Past Department Commanders James S. Hudson and Comrades Gray, Wyett and Kinney. The visitors were received in due form and then came a series of speeches, the department commander making the principal address and being followed by the other visiting officials and comrades, Past Department Commander Andrew K. McMahon and Past Commanders John B. Mason and William P. Smith of Lawton Post. A collation was served during the evening.

SAVED ONLY HIS CLOTHES.

Driven Out First by Earthquake and Then by Fire.

Experiences and Impressions of a Former Newporter in the San Francisco Disaster.

The following letter, written by Thomas A. Howland of San Francisco, formerly of Newport, to his brother, William T. Howland of this city, gives a vivid description of the scenes in the California city immediately following the great earthquake, and the impressions produced upon an active man by the terrible catastrophe:

Sacramento, Cal., April 21, 1906.

Dear Brother: I will now try to write you more of my experience of the last few days. The earthquake of this coast, which destroyed San Francisco, came like a thunderbolt; it was something awful. I can only compare it with a drop of water on a hot gridle. How any tall building stood is a wonder to me; still the Call building and the St. Francis Hotel, which were 18 stories, never toppled. I heard the Call was leaning a little. These two were both gutted by fire after the shake. They were constructed of steel and supposed to be fireproof.

I had been working two weeks as night clerk at the Colonnade apartment house, which was owned by Jack Higgins. I used to board with Jo West Berkeley 16 years ago. He also conducted the Hotel Higgins on O'Farrel street, and himself worked the night shift. When the shock came I was just pulling some bottles of milk on the elevator to take up to about a dozen housekeeping rooms. Well, I never let go the three bottles I had in my hands. I was about 30 feet from the street door. Instinct told me to run, but I was filled with a fear and dread which almost paralyzed me. It seemed like trying to run on the deck of a ship in a storm, with the flakes of calcimine falling like snow from the ceiling, the groaning of the building, the crash of a thousand chimneys and buildings and the screams above me in the house. I gained the street as two delivery horses ran away from their drivers, and prepared to dodge house or electric wire, whichever broke.

All that gave way on the Colonnade was the back fire wall. There were several small cracks in the building and all the rooms were scattered with plaster and broken crockery. One piano on the top, or sixth, floor was thrown over three feet from the wall. Some of the women fainted or went into hysterics, but no one was injured in the house. I ran the elevator up to get clothing for them, but could not run it down again. Either our current was cut off just then or the elevator jammed in the shaft, so I had to run up and down the stairs after that and try and pacify the guests. There was no more danger, still in my heart I expected every trip the house would go down before I could return.

Well, fire broke out all over the city. The water mains were broken and the fire men could only dynamite the buildings around those which were burning in order to check the flames, but even that failed and the city was destroyed except the residence portion. The buildings of cheap construction of course collapsed with the shock and hundreds of poor souls were killed; many were crippled. McInnes' Pavilion was turned into a hospital, as it had the largest floor surface of any one building. Fire surrounded that, and they moved the most of them to the different parks; the dead ones were left to the flames. They couldn't handle the number of injured, and many were left to die where they were crushed. Oh, it was awful; people were crazy, women gave birth to children right on the street. Martial law was declared before noon and it was strict; many people were shot for not moving fast enough when ordered away by a soldier. I will send you some notices.

The day clerk and family barely escaped with his life as their house caved with the first shock. I worked 26 hours and was 48 hours without sleep, and not a square meal from Tuesday at 5 o'clock until Thursday night at 10, when I arrived here. Mr. Higgins came over about 11 o'clock Wednesday night and a darkey brought his cash register over to the colonnade. His place on O'Farrel street was burning. He only stayed about five minutes; asked me if I could stand it all that night. I told him I would stay as long as there was anything to stay with.

At 5:15 Thursday morning I could throw a stone into a fire on two sides of me. I took a bed spread and blanket and pillow and the hotel books and tied them in a bundle, tied some towels around a couple of bird cages, and started for 1186 Ellis street with the cash register. It weighed about 100 pounds and I packed it ten blocks, by resting twice in a block. An old gentleman helped by carrying the bundles part of the way. I found the family ready to go, at a moment's notice. They gave me bread and butter and water. Could only heat water from a candle; no gas, no electricity and very little water. They gave us a place to sleep also.

I slept from 7 until 11, then went down to a vacant lot close to the hotel to see if my trunk was burnt. I had thrown in my best clothes in case I had to get out in a hurry, Wednesday afternoon, and that evening as the fires came our way several of us took our trunks into a lot about 300 feet square. Two of the boys said they would cover them up with sand, but they got drunk, I guess, and forgot it and all I found was the tin; contents were ashes. All I had in the world I prized most is gone except our dear mother's picture and the clothes on my person.

Well, I went back to 1186 Ellis street, put the hotel books and a few things in a pillow slip, bid my friends good by and started for the wharf and came up here. The register I left there in the basement; if the house is not burned Higgins can go and get it any time. I had turned it over and shook it before I left, and all that fell out was a few machine slugs. I also brought the three canary birds up here in one cage and will keep them, as I think they are mine by rights, since their owners deserted them.

The water front is burning in "Frisco today, I stood the strain down there all right after the first fright, but after I crossed the bay and was waiting for a train I got to thinking of the horrors and could not keep the tears from my eyes.

As I looked over the ruins on my way to the ferry it reminded me of the pictures I had seen of the fall of Pompeii. Some places the ground has cracks three or four feet wide, while blocks are raised up at least three feet. Valencia street is crooked, one building sank down a whole story, but worst of all was those buried under piles of brick, and fire kept the rescuers from them.

Well, Billy, I think this with the papers will give you a pretty good idea of the situation. You can let our sisters see this, as I don't feel like writing this over again.

Give regards to all friends, and love and kisses to the babies.

I remain, as ever, your brother,
Tom.

QUITE A RAIN.

It rained a little last night; probably every one who had to be out knows that it rained. Thames street became a lively river, the side streets were small torrents, and quantities of gravel came down the hill. That was about all that did come down the hill or go up the hill or do anything else, except wait for the rain to roll by. Finally the rain ceased and the streets again became passable for pedestrians, instead of being suitable for submarines. After the rain came the fog, which dropped down thick, as it has done several nights recently.

According to the gauge at the Water Works station, the rainfall from 6 o'clock yesterday morning until 6 last night was .21 of an inch, and from 6 last night until 6 this morning .52 of an inch, making .73, or practically three-quarters of an inch of water. Most of this fell practically inside of an hour.

FUNERAL OF MRS. CUSHING.

Services were held for Mrs. Robert M. Cushing at Trinity Church, Boston, yesterday, by Rev. Alexander Mann, the rector, assisted by Rev. F. B. Allen, city missionary, and Rev. Reuben Kidner.

As the remains were carried into the church the vested choir sang "O Paradise," and then the rector chanted the Psalm of the resurrection. The choir sang Mrs. Cushing's favorite hymn, "Rock of Ages," and the regular burial service of the Episcopal church followed.

The mourners were preceded by Mr. Robert M. Cushing, husband of the deceased with his daughter, Mrs. Edward James; Mr. Grafton D. Cushing, his son, and Mrs. Andreas Anderson. Mr. Howard Cushing, another son, is in Europe.

The interment was at Mount Auburn in the family tomb.

SPOKE ON "GARDENING."

Miss Maude Stevens Addresses Calvert Division of Children's League of Good Citizenship.

At the meeting of the Children's League of Good Citizenship, Calvert division, yesterday afternoon, President Roy Hazard was in the chair. After the report of the secretary, Miss Elsie Watson, reports of good or ill in the city from the various rooms in Calvert were received, and the meeting was then addressed by Miss Maude Stevens on "Gardening." Mrs. Walter N. Hill, head of the Educational Department of the Civic League, has recently distributed flower and vegetable seeds to the members of the Children's League, and therefore, Miss Stevens's address was particularly timely.

Miss Stevens spoke in an interesting way of the pleasure which flowers give and urged all the children, who had some earth upon which the sun shone and which received no drip from the eaves to plant a garden. First the yard should be cleared, and then the earth must be broken up very fine, turned over with a spade and dug deep. Sand, wood ashes and bones buried deep are useful for the garden. Shallow furrows should be made for small seeds and deep furrows for large seeds and when the seeds come up a board should be pressed down upon them. Seedlings should be placed two inches apart and the soil should be stirred up every few days to keep the weeds from growing. Except in dry weather not much water is needed. As the five necessities for the garden Miss Stevens gave: First, the sun; second, deep digging; third, the breaking up of the soil; fourth, thinning out, so as not to have weak plants, and fifth, loose soil. In conclusion Miss Stevens asked the children to report to her the progress of their gardens.

NEWPORT HOSPITAL (Legal Title).

Incorporated 1873. Private Institution.

This hospital has for thirty-two years kept its doors open to every one that could be cared for within its walls.

During the past ten years it has spent for the care of the suffering over $16,755 yearly more than has been received from them. For the last two years this amount has been $25,140 and $27,278 respectively.

It maintains a District Nursing Service covering the whole city.

It deserves and asks the liberal support of all those who are interested in caring for the sick poor or in any way relieving suffering humanity.

Donations and legacies for the daily wants are always needed and gratefully received.

A cordial invitation is extended to all interested to inspect the Hospital and its work.

A HOLE IN HER BOW.

Tug Nina Struck in Practice by Submarine Porpoise.

One Craft Beached and Later Floated, While the Other Dives for Safety.

Submarine boat Porpoise and submarine boat tender Nina had an accidental collision in Coddington's Cove yesterday afternoon, which resulted in the latter's having a two-foot oblong hole rammed in her port bow, making it necessary to beach her, while the submarine dove and saved herself from being rolled over by the surface craft.

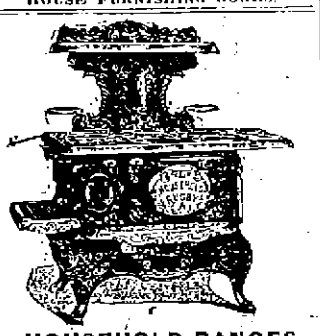

The Porpoise and Shark were in the cove, attended by the Nina, which has been especially fitted during the past winter to render aid to the submarines while in practice, and especially to raise them out of the depths if for some reason they are unable to come to the surface of their own accord. She was not made proof against ramming, though, and so, when the submarine came up under her bow, her steel plates suffered from contact with the stronger construction of the submarine.

Prompt diving probably saved the Porpoise from being damaged, while it allowed the Nina to make full speed for the beach, where an easy resting place was found. Her forward compartment was soon filled with water, but the big tug was saved from serious damage by prompt beaching and is now back at the Torpedo Station, where she is being patched up temporarily and probably tomorrow will sail for Fall River to be hauled out.

The Porpoise was in command of Lieutenant Charles P. Nelson, U. S. N., and the Nina of Chief Boatswain Timothy Sullivan, U. S. N. Soon after the Nina started for the shore both the Porpoise and the Shark started in her wake, running on the surface, to render any assistance possible. Soon torpedo practice ship Vesuvius, which was also at practice in the bay, came to render assistance.

Word was sent to the Torpedo Station and Commander Gleaves came up on torpedo boat Morris and station tug Morris followed. The Nina lay in no danger and there were ample naval craft to render assistance, but when Mr. J. R. Sullivan tendered the use of tug Solicitor with her wrecking pump it was accepted. Shortly after midnight the craft was again afloat and by 1 A. M. was back at the Station. The Solicitor remained alongside to keep the hold clear, until the temporary repairs can be made.
